

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE FIFTEENTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT IN AND FOR PALM BEACH COUNTY, FLORIDA

Case No. 50-2009CA040800XXXXMBAG

JEFFREY EPSTEIN,

Plaintiff/Counter-Defendant,

v.

SCOTT ROTHSTEIN, individually, and BRADLEY J. EDWARDS, individually,

Defendants/Counter-Plaintiff.

PLAINTIFF/COUNTER-DEFENDANT JEFFREY EPSTEIN'S
MOTION TO MAKE COURT RECORDS CONFIDENTIAL

Plaintiff/Counter-Defendant Jeffrey Epstein ("Epstein"), pursuant to the 15th Judicial Circuit's Administrative Order 2.303-9/09, moves the Court to make court records confidential, and in support thereof, states:

1. There is a dispute between Epstein and Defendant/Counter-Plaintiff Bradley Edwards ("Edwards") over the privileged nature of certain documents that were included on a disc recently obtained from Epstein's former counsel, Fowler White.

2. Epstein recently identified exhibits on his Clerk's Trial Exhibit List which included documents obtained from the disc. Edwards moved to strike those exhibits both on their untimely disclosure and because he alleged 49 of the exhibits were attorney-client privileged.

3. The Court held a hearing on March 8, 2018, at which time Edwards' Motion to Strike Epstein's Untimely Supplemental Exhibits and to Strike All Exhibits and Any Reference to Documents Containing Privileged Materials Listed on Edwards' Privilege Log was heard. The Court struck Epstein's newly disclosed exhibits as untimely but did not make any findings on the privileged nature of the documents. In order for Epstein to preserve his rights concerning the Court's rejection of the ore tenus request for an in camera inspection and striking of Epstein's newly disclosed exhibits, the Court directed Epstein to file under seal the newly disclosed trial exhibits which Edwards has claimed are privileged. (3/8/18 Aft. Tr. 62:2-63:1.)

4. At the March 8, 2018, hearing, the Court also stated that the copy of the disc entitled "Epstein Bates Stamp" obtained from Fowler White's files should be filed under seal:

... that the one disk containing the documents that are being sought to be introduced at trial to take [sic] to record will be permitted to be filed under seal.

(3/8/18 Aft. Tr. 75:16-18.) The Court directed the Link & Rockenbach firm to maintain Fowler White's original files (including the original disc). (3/8/18 Aft. Tr. 80:8-81:15.)

5. Because the case was stayed on March 9, 2018, by the Fourth District Court of Appeal, Epstein could not move the Court to seal the disc and exhibits in accordance with Administrative Order 2.303-9/09. Epstein, however, on March 11, 2018, served a Notice of Service of Court's March 8, 2018, Hearing Transcripts and Compliance with Court's Rulings, a copy of which is attached as Exhibit A. Simultaneously with the filing of this Motion, Epstein is filing the disc and stricken trial exhibits under seal in compliance with the Court's rulings at the March 8, 2018, hearing.

6. While on March 12, 2018, nunc pro tunc to March 8, 2018, the Court entered an Agreed Order sealing two docket entries which referenced the contents of documents Edwards claimed are attorney-client privileged, the Order did not address the sealing of the disc and the stricken trial exhibits.

7. The Fourth District Court of Appeal's stay has now been lifted in part.

8. Epstein recognizes that Administrative Order 2.303-9/09 provides that a request to seal court records must be made by written motion and that the parties may not submit an agreed-upon order. Specifically, the Administrative Order provides:

1. A request to make court records ... confidential in any type of case must be made by written motion. Parties cannot submit an agreed-upon order. The Motion must be captioned "Motion to Make Court Records Confidential" ... The Motion must identify with particularity the records or hearing to be made confidential and the grounds upon which it is based. ...

3. A public hearing on any motion to seal a court record ... will be held as soon as practicable but no sooner than ten (10) days after notice is given to the public and the press. ...

4. A sealing order issued by a court must state with specificity the grounds for sealing and the findings of the court that justify sealing. ... The order must contain specific findings that the degree, duration, and manner of confidentiality are no broader than necessary to protect the interests listed in the Interim Rule of Judicial Administration 2.420(c)(9)(A). ...

Accordingly, to assure that the disc and stricken trial exhibits that Edwards claims are privileged are accepted by the Clerk under seal and remain under seal, Epstein requests an Order authorizing such filings and advising the Clerk that such filings shall remain under seal until further order of the Court. By filing this Motion, Epstein does not agree with Edwards' privilege assertions.

CERTIFICATION

This motion is being made in good faith and is supported by a sound factual and legal basis.

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

I certify that the foregoing document has been furnished to the attorneys listed on the Service List below on March 21, 2018, through the Court's e-filing portal pursuant to Florida Rule of Judicial Administration 2.516(b)(1).

3           Needless to say the recent barrage, as 4 opposed to flurry, of activity that has 5 transpired is of extreme consternation to 6 the court. It has caused me to have to 7 engage in an inordinate amount of time to 8 the exclusion of other matters that needed
9 my attention.

10          While the Court understands the gravity 11 of the issues that have transpired, it is 12 with extreme consternation and concern that 13 they have transpired on the eve of trial, a 14 trial that has already been continued once, 15 matters that could have been avoided had 16 timely action been taken. And the burden on 17 the Court to try to get through what would 18 be approximately four feet of documents is 19 extensive and onerous. I have done the best 20 that I can to go through the materials, and 21 I had some assistance, which I appreciate,
22 from one of our staff attorneys, in trying 23 to simply wade through the extensive,
24 complicated, and in many situations, years'
25 old documents, some that go back almost a

1 decade in terms of their age, and much of 2 which I'm reviewing for the first time.

3 So it's against that backdrop we will 4 proceed. We will hear the motion filed by 5 Epstein to remove the case from the trial 6 docket relative to Florida Rule of Civil 7 Procedure 1.440 first.

8 MR. SCAROLA: Good morning, Your Honor.
9 With the Court's permission, believe it or 10 not, there is one agreed matter that we 11 would ask the Court to address first.

12 I would like to introduce to Your Honor
13 University of Utah Law Professor Paul
14 Cassell, former Federal Judge Paul Cassell, 15 who will present that matter to the court.

16 MR. CASSELL: Good morning, Your Honor.
17 Since this is an unopposed motion, it will 18 just take 10 seconds to present.

19 I'm here pro hac vice, which I'm not 20 sure the Court is concerned about. We do 21 have a motion to seal the pleading and 22 related emails. It's unopposed. We ask
23 that it be granted. Temporarily sealed
24 until you reach a ruling.

25 THE COURT: That's fine. I will need

1 an order in that regard, please.

2 All right, Ms. Rockenbach.

3 MS. ROCKENBACH: Thank you. May it
4 please the Court. Good morning.

5 Your Honor mentioned the barrage that 6 the Court has received. And it's the exact
7 words that I have on the top of my yellow 8 pad to describe the email flurry that has 9 occurred within the last four days, which 10 have truly made me sick. I could not wait 11 for this hearing to occur because of the 12 fact that I know this Court does not need 13 any more paperwork. You need to see the 14 attorneys and understand the chain of 15 evidence and how it was reprehensible that 16 either I or my law partner has been accused 17 of stealing documents. That has made me 18 sick.

19 So I look forward to discussing the 20 privileged nature of the documents. And I
21 thank Mr. Cassell for being here today.

22 Your Honor, this is Mr. Epstein's
23 motion to remove this case from the trial
24 docket. It was prompted by Mr. Edwards' 25 motion to separate the trials, which was

1 filed on Friday, I believe, for the first 2 time identifying that the fact that the 3 default that Mr. Epstein has against 4 Mr. Roth was on the original complaint and 5 it no longer applied.

6 Mr. Edwards pointed out to this Court
7 and to Mr. Epstein -- he is absolutely
8 correct -- that Mr. Epstein's operative 9 complaint is the Second Amended Complaint to 10 which there is no default.

11 What rule 1.440 tells this Court to do
12 is to look at the time that Mr. Edwards
13 moved -- it's maybe a notice to set trial.
14 In this case it was a motion to set cause 15 for trial -- was the case at issue.

16 Rule 1.440 is one of the most strictly 17 complied with mandatory rules of civil 18 procedure, which has been recognized by the 19 Fourth District Court of Appeal, and it's 20 one of those rare instances when a petition 21 for writ of mandamus is appropriate when 22 it's not complied with.

23 So we need to look at the pleadings and 24 not try this case twice. This case was not 25 at issue when Mr. Edwards filed his

1 motion -- for the obvious reason, when he 2 filed his motion to set the case in the 3 above-styled cause of action for trial on 4 May 24th, 2017. There is no dispute.

5 And Mr. Edwards has actually pointed it
6 out, Mr. Epstein did not have a default
7 against Mr. Rothstein.

8 Contrary to what Mr. Edwards'
9 suggestion is, is to cure this issue --

10 THE COURT: Mr. Epstein did not have a 11 default against Mr. Rothstein.

12 MS. ROCKENBACH: Rothstein, thank you 13 very much.

14 Contrary to what Mr. Edwards has 15 suggested, there is no cure for a defective 16 motion to set a cause for trial. You cannot 17 cure it.

18 There are some cases that have been 19 cited. In fact, both sides. I cited Labor 20 Ready from the Fourth District Court of 21 Appeal in my motion. And I understand 22 Mr. Edwards intends to rely upon it. But 23 this was an authored decision by Judge
24 Melanie May from the Fourth DCA. And that 25 case has great language to guide this Court

1 on.

2 In that case Judge May wrote, "We do 3 not quarrel with those cases or their 4 holdings."

5 Your Honor, would the Court like a copy 6 of this case to follow?

7 THE COURT: Sure.

8 MS. ROCKENBACH: Thank you. May I
9 approach?

10 THE COURT: Yes.

11 MS. ROCKENBACH: I have a similarly 12 highlighted copy for counsel.

13 So in that case, the Fourth DCA has 14 said, "We don't quarrel with genuine parts 15 of prior Fourth DCA case recognizing the 16 mandatory nature and compliance, strict 17 compliance with Rule 1.440." Judge May 18 wrote, "We don't quarrel with Bennett versus 19 Continental Chemicals."

20 However, we point out that none of 21 those cases involve the case that has been 22 pending at issue for years. Those cases
23 were at issue. Meaning, they had a default.
24 They had an answer. They had a final
25 pleading. Twenty days had run. Another 30

1 days had run. Compliance with rule 1.440,
2 check the box.

3 What Judge May said in this case, the 4 Labor Ready case, there was a last minute
5 technical amendment to the complaint. And 6 guess what, they went to trial. It was 7 waived.

8 That case does not apply. Those facts
9 do not control. What you have before Your 10 Honor is a -- no waiver, no waiver. You 11 have an objection that Mr. Edwards has 12 pointed out, rightfully so, the case is not 13 at issue.

14 What I filed with the Court
15 immediately, simultaneously with the motion
16 to remove this case from the docket was a
17 proper motion for default against Rothstein.

18 There is no case that supports
19 Mr. Edwards' position to this Court about 20 severing a case in order to retroactively 21 make it at issue. That doesn't happen in 22 the law.

23 The law says, in rule 1.440 in the 24 Bennett case and the Gawker case from the 25 Second DCA, says that this Court has to look

1 at May 24th -- and that is the salient date
2 that this Court must look at -- because 3 that's when Mr. Edwards hastily moved this 4 case and set the above-styled caused of 5 action for trial, May 24th.

6 To be clear, Your Honor, Mr. Edwards
7 did not move to sever at that time. This 8 case has been pending for some eight plus
9 years. He has never before tried to sever.

10 He, at that time, on May 24th, instead 11 of pointing out the lack of at issue, and by 12 the way, you need a default, he moved the 13 case. He didn't even move his counterclaim 14 to set for trial, he moved the case.

15 And then further, to evidence
16 Mr. Edwards' intent to try this case
17 globally, main claim and counterclaim -- 18 which is appropriate, because the 19 counterclaim arises from the main claim -- 20 he entered into a joint stipulation
21 indicating that that's how the case is going 22 to be tried.

23 So it was not Mr. Epstein who caused 24 this last-minute, 11th-hour, oh, my gosh, we 25 are not at issue, it was Mr. Edwards who

1 pointed it out.

2 I researched it over the weekend. And 3 on the very next business day, as soon as I 4 possibly could, I filed the motion to remove 5 the case from the docket.

6 I then immediately moved to default. I
7 have an order for the Court to sign to enter 8 a default. Served it on Mr. Rothstein's 9 counsel of record, Marc Nurik. And we will 10 then be ready once this Court enters the 11 default, and presumably either party notices 12 it for trial in 20 days when it is then at 13 issue, this Court can then set it no less 30 14 days. That is the mandatory nature of the 15 rule.

16 I regret we're here, but this is a 17 strict compliance rule and we have to be at 18 issue.

19 And, Your Honor, the last thing either
20 side or this Court wants is to try this case 21 twice.

22 THE COURT: Despite the representation,
23 Ms. Rockenbach, that you made in your motion
24 to continue, that Plaintiff and his trial
25 counsel will not seek another continuance.

1 We will be to ready to try the case in 90
2 days --

3 MS. ROCKENBACH: Yes.

4 THE COURT: -- quote, end quote.

5 MS. ROCKENBACH: Yes.

6 THE COURT: Why was that not pointed 7 out to me upon a review of the docket, 8 presumably a review of the docket, to 9 determine whether or not there was, in fact,
10 a need to strike the trial notice at that 11 time, instead of gearing up, instead of 12 spending an inordinate amount of court 13 resources, and now taking the position that 14 because what in essence was dilatory conduct
15 on the part of the Epstein trial counsel 16 team, dating back to 2011, now constitutes 17 reason for this case to be stricken?

18 Does that not sound inequitable? Does 19 that not sound inappropriate? Does that not 20 sound specifically contrary to the quoted
21 language that I have just indicated here?

22 MS. ROCKENBACH: The quoted language as 23 you indicated, Your Honor, I made knowing 24 that there was a default.

25 Mr. Edwards at that time never said

1 that default does not apply to the operative 2 complaint. And I never, ever thought that 3 it did not.

4 THE COURT: Isn't that your 5 responsibility? Isn't that the 6 responsibility -- before you make that 7 statement to this Court and make the 8 representation that in light of the fact 9 that you guys were getting up to speed, that 10 part of getting up to speed, would have been 11 your responsibility to check the adequacy of 12 the pleadings -- and as the case that has 13 been cited -- at least one of them indicate, 14 the responsibility would have been to file a 15 motion to strike the case -- strike that. A 16 motion to strike the notice setting trial or 17 the trial order seasonably and timely so 18 that we would not have been in this position 19 in the first place?

20 It would seem to me that you are 21 essentially creating the error yourselves by 22 not doing due diligence.

23 MS. ROCKENBACH: I wish I had seen it.
24 I knew there was a default against 25 Mr. Rothstein, and that he was in federal

1 prison. Never before did Mr. Edwards raise 2 this issue that he raised on Friday.

3 And by the way, Your Honor, the fact
4 that Mr. Edwards has raised it, he is using 5 it as an excuse to sever the trial, which 6 does not cure the defect, and is an 7 appropriate manner to try this case in any 8 event.

9 Mr. Edwards is the one who pointed out
10 the improper defect, who could have raised 11 it much sooner.

12 Your Honor, I wish I had seen it. I
13 wish I had seen it. And we are ready to try 14 the case, but that's not the issue.

15 Mr. Edwards having raised the defect
16 now, we could go through this trial, get a 17 verdict for Mr. Epstein, and I believe we 18 would, and then Mr. Edwards could appeal on 19 the defect because he has raised it.

20 So there is but one action that the 21 Court can take, and that is --

22 THE COURT: If that transpires, then I
23 quit. Then I am resigning my position.
24 Because if I can't trust what was written 25 already here by you, that you -- that

1 Mr. Epstein, as the Plaintiff, and his trial
2 counsel, will not seek another continuance,
3 and he will be ready to try the case in 90 4 days -- quoted language, pledging to this 5 Court that otherwise this case is ready to 6 go -- and now we are faced with this defect 7 after all of the time and expense that has 8 been made here and spent here, is really a 9 travesty.

10 And while I say that tongue in cheek in 11 terms of my resignation, this would -- it 12 would be astounding to me if that was, in 13 fact, the case.

14 MR. LINK: Your Honor, may I have 15 permission to stand next to my partner on 16 this?

17 THE COURT: Sure. Of course.

18 MR. LINK: Thank you.

19 Judge, I want to make sure that the 20 record is clear. We are not asking for a 21 continuance. The words that we gave you, we 22 are standing by. This is not a motion for a
23 continuance. And the words that my partner 24 told this Court were absolutely true when 25 she said them. They are absolutely true

1 today. This is not us not being ready.
2 This a legal defect that cannot be cured.

3 And I apologize to the Court for where 4 we are and what we have done. And I'm 5 afraid we are going to spend a lot more time
6 together on this case.

7 But I want this Court to understand 8 that when my law firm says something, we 9 mean it. We absolutely do. And we are not 10 moving for continuance.

11 But this case cannot go to trial with 12 this defect, that's just the law. But I
13 don't want this Court to think for one
14 second that my partner or I would ever 15 mislead you or say something we didn't mean.
16 I have been accused of enough of that this 17 week.

18 THE COURT: The point that I'm 19 making -- nobody is accusing you.

20 MR. LINK: Not you, Your Honor. I've 21 been accused of stealing documents and a 22 crime.

23 THE COURT: I understand.

24 MR. LINK: And that's the first time in 25 32 years.

1           THE COURT: And I appreciate that. I 2 understand everybody's emotions are rather 3 high, based upon the fact that all of this 4 has transpired in such a short amount of 5 time.

6           But again, at the same time, as I said 7 before, it seems to me to be highly 8 inequitable -- and I understand your 9 argument is legal in nature -- but highly 10 inequitable to come before the Court and 11 suggest that by way of dilatory conduct on 12 the part of the Epstein trial team in not 13 securing the technicality that we are 14 speaking about, and that is a default 15 against an individual who will remain in 16 prison for the rest of his life. Who is, to 17 my knowledge, based anecdotally, only based 18 on anecdotal evidence, is penniless and has 19 been disgorged of any assets that he has and 20 that his family has, that somehow because of 21 this technicality we're caused to put this 22 case back and not try the case after, again, 23 an inordinate amount of time and expense, 24 which is in essence taxpayer money, of which 25 this Court has been and continues to be a

1           steward of those expenses and time.

2           Again, coupled with the fact that it
3           was represented to this Court that there
4           would be no further delays and that the case 5           would be ready to try. That tells me and 6           that represents to me, that counsel has done 7           their due diligence.

8           Part of the motion said, "We have heard 9           the Court loud and clear, now we" -- Link 10          and Rockenbach -- "are on the case, with 11          support from the Gunster firm, and we will 12          not allow the same type of conduct that 13          transpired earlier, which the Court was 14          critical of, happen again."

15          That pledge to this Court means 16          something to this Court. That means that 17          the docket has been assiduously reviewed,
18          and that everything else, short of gearing 19          up for trial on the substantive issues that 20          are before this forum, have been resolved, 21          rectified, and that certainly we are not 22          going to be reaching back seven years on a 23          technicality to somehow thwart the efforts 24          of the Court in trying to moved forward on 25          behalf of both sides to resolve a case that

1 has drawn a significant amount of public 2 interest and that has been pending for --

3 MR. LINK: Nine years.

4 THE COURT: Nine years is too simple.
5 Three thousand and thirteen days, as of 6 today.

7 MR. LINK: Yes, sir.

8 Your Honor, if I may. Because what is 9 really important to me, more than anything
10 in this case, is our reputation. And I want 11 this Court to understand that we are not 12 moving for a continuance.

13 THE COURT: I didn't say that was your 14 position, which is why there is a 15 frustration here.

16 Continuances are discretionary under 17 the law. I have wide discretion. The Rule
18 of Judicial Administration of this state -- 19 and I do my best to follow them. And you 20 have probably heard me at 8:45s make this 21 statement, at least if not expressly,
22 impliedly, that the trial courts of this 23 state shall have a firm continuance policy.

24 Now, while that may not be popular
25 amongst the bar when the Court enforces that

1 rule, it is nonetheless a rule of the 2 Florida Supreme Court, and I do my best to 3 follow the law, despite popularity concerns,
4 of which I have none.

5 MR. LINK: And we appreciate that, Your 6 Honor.

7 THE COURT: So --

8 MR. LINK: Sorry, I thought you were 9 done.

10 THE COURT: I am not exonerating the 11 movant here, by any means. You're the first 12 one --

13 MS. ROCKENBACH: The movants being 14 Edwards or Epstein?

15 THE COURT: I'm talking about Edwards.
16 The movant setting the case for trial.

17 MS. ROCKENBACH: Understood.

18 THE COURT: Because Edwards has the 19 same responsibility to the Court, to this 20 community, to the taxpayers, to the public,
21 to my constituency, to assiduously review 22 the docket, to ensure that the notice is 23 being provided in accordance with rule
24 1.440.

25 So by no means am I exonerating anyone

1 here. It's just, again, a cumulation of 2 having to go through what we have gone
3 through together. Up to now, what I have 4 tried to maintain, a civil, professional and 5 efficient atmosphere despite the nature of 6 the case, despite pejorative comments that 7 were made earlier, which the Court has 8 indicated will not be tolerated, and that 9 has been followed carefully by all
10 concerned, and I appreciate that very much.

11 But here we are. I am familiar with 12 the law. I am familiar with the statute 13 -- strike that.

14 I am familiar with the rule. I am
15 familiar with the comments to the rule. I 16 am familiar with the case law pertaining to 17 the rule.

18 I will allow you time for rebuttal, if 19 needed.

20 MS. ROCKENBACH: Thank you, Your Honor.

21 MR. LINK: Judge, thank you for letting 22 me come up here.

23 THE COURT: Mr. Scarola, again, I share
24 my frustration with you and the Edwards'
25 legal team, as well, as far as this

1 conundrum.

2 It is disappointing that a firm of your 3 stature, an attorney of your stature, of 4 which I have an abiding respect for all of 5 those who are serving their clients in this 6 case, that, again, the docket was not 7 assiduously combed, and we are left here
8 today with the very real possibility of this 9 case not being tried as scheduled.

10 Your response, please.

11 MR. SCAROLA: Yes, sir. Your Honor, 12 let me first of all point out that rule
13 1.440 only permits a party to notice a 14 matter for trial once at issue.

15 And at the time our notice was filed, 16 we were not a party to the case that was 17 pending against Mr. Rothstein. And quite 18 frankly, had no concern about that case. It 19 was simply not a matter that we cared about, 20 and quite frankly believed, for the reasons
21 that Your Honor has referenced, that it 22 would never really be tried.

23 This is a defendant who has absolutely 24 no ability whatsoever to ever respond to a 25 judgment against him.

1           And our concern with regard to 2           Rothstein arose when we were informed of the 3           witnesses that were intended to be called 4           ostensibly in the case against 5           Mr. Rothstein, which was a damage only claim 6           for a conspiracy to commit abuse of process, 7           a claim, which if it had been defended, 8           would have been thrown out because there is 9           no tort because of the litigation privilege 10          for conspiracy to commit abuse of process, 11          and there could not possibly, under any 12          conceivable version of the facts, ever be a 13          claim for damages by Mr. Epstein in 14          connection with that.

15          Nonetheless, we are told that there are 16          going to be -- there's going to be testimony 17          from Mr. Rothstein -- excuse me. From 18          Mr. Epstein's victims in that portion of the 19          case, that Mr. Edwards is going to be called 20          in that portion of case.

21          And what became apparent to us is, that 22          an effort was going to be made to use the 23          rouse of a claim against Rothstein as to 24          which we would have no standing to object, 25          to insert into the record information that

1 would never be admissible in the claim of 2 Bradley Edwards against Mr. Epstein.

3 It became a particular concern to us,
4 because once a default is entered, the jury 5 is obliged to assume the truthfulness of the 6 facts that are alleged in the complaint.

7 We are obviously contesting those 8 facts. So what was going to happen if there 9 was going to be a focus on the underlying 10 allegations --

11 THE COURT: Against Rothstein?

12 MR. SCAROLA: Against Rothstein -- is 13 that the same jury was going to be told, you 14 must accept these allegations; and then they 15 were going to be told, you can't accept 16 those allegations. And that obviously in 17 and of itself created a need for us to 18 approach the Court and ask that these claims 19 be severed.

20 We then determined that there was no
21 valid default ever entered against 22 Mr. Rothstein. It didn't happen. And 23 that's not something, again, that was ever a 24 concern to us.

25 I don't represent him. I never want to

1 represent him. I am uncomfortable about the 2 idea of having to be involved in a trial in 3 which I might have to be raising objections
4 that would appear to be objections on behalf 5 of Rothstein to what's going on in that 6 first portion of the case.

7 So we found out about the procedural 8 defect. Now the issue becomes, does Your 9 Honor have the ability to address those 10 problems? And the answer to that question 11 is clearly yes.

12 Severance of a permissive
13 counterclaim -- and there is no doubt about 14 the fact that this is a permissive
15 counterclaim -- rests within the sound 16 discretion of the Court.

17 THE COURT: The question that I had 18 was, in reviewing the material, is this 19 still a counterclaim at all, albeit 20 technically brought as same, because Edwards
21 no longer is a defendant in the matter
22 brought by Epstein?

23 The sole defendant, as I understand it,
24 on a one-count issue is Rothstein.

25 MR. SCAROLA: Yes, sir. I refer to it

1 as a counterclaim only because that's the 2 procedural posturing in which it arose.

3 But, when a voluntary dismissal was 4 taken with regard to all claims against 5 Bradley Edwards, it's no longer a 6 counterclaim. It's now our claim against 7 Mr. Epstein.

8 THE COURT: And while it has its 9 genesis in the original action filed by 10 Epstein against Rothstein, Edwards and L.M., 11 the fact that simply because it has its 12 genesis there, as I was trying to think this 13 through among the other materials that I had 14 to review -- and they were substantial -- is 15 that can it not be argued that the only 16 connection between Rothstein's claim brought 17 against him -- strike that.

18 Epstein's claim brought against 19 Rothstein, the only connection that is even 20 arguable, is that, in fact, the Edwards' 21 case had its genesis in the fact that 22 Epstein originally brought the claim against 23 Rothstein, Edwards and L.M., and then 24 voluntarily dismissed the case at the eve of 25 summary judgment.

1 I.e., is there any law that supports
2 the proposition that this would, in fact, be 3 a separate action at this juncture having no 4 technical, even legal connection, between 5 the claim brought by Epstein against 6 Rothstein for some type of conspiracy issue,
7 and what is now a separate malicious 8 prosecution claim -- albeit having its 9 genesis in the original Epstein action -- 10 but having nothing shared at this juncture,
11 either technically or legally, other than a 12 case number?

13 MR. SCAROLA: Your Honor, I think that 14 that is flawless logic. We are here to try 15 our claim against Epstein on a fourth 16 amended, quote, unquote, counterclaim that 17 is really a separate action.

18 But while I understand the Court's 19 reasoning and agree with it, we don't need 20 to try to technically call this something 21 other than what it was derived from, and 22 that is a counterclaim.

23 Because the law is very clear that this 24 Court has the discretion to sever for 25 separate trials a counterclaim. And that's

1 the second -- excuse me -- that's the Third
2 DCA case that we cited to Your Honor, Turner
3 Construction Company versus ENF Contractors.

4 And let me hand -- let me hand the 5 other copy of that to Your Honor.

6 So we can assume -- without needing to 7 reach the argument as to whether this is or 8 is not still a counterclaim -- we can assume 9 that it is a counterclaim. There is no
10 question about the fact that it's a 11 permissive counterclaim.

12 And we are in a position, whereas the 13 Third District Court of Appeal observed, it 14 is within a trial judge's discretion to 15 sever a permissive counterclaim from the 16 main claim if there is no evidence of 17 prejudice.

18 And I was very pleased to hear Mr. Link
19 and Ms. Rockenbach stand before the Court
20 and tell you, We are ready for trial.

21 Because that's what they told you. They 22 told you that back -- they told you they 23 would be ready back in December, and they 24 are telling you again, We are ready for 25 trial. We are not asking for a continuance.

1 We only want to remove a technical defect
2 that might have us try this case twice.

3 Well, I assure Your Honor, there could 4 not be a clearer example of waiver on our 5 part of any technical difficulty than I am
6 asserting to the Court right now that could 7 never and will never be the basis for any 8 appellate argument on our part.

9 So, next, the Court goes on to say, "An 10 appellate court will not interfere with 11 procedural rulings of a trial judge, unless 12 a party is deprived of a substantial right 13 by the procedure employed."

14 So let's look at the procedure
15 employed, and what the unanimous Fourth
16 District Court of Appeal told us in Labor
17 Ready versus the Australian Warehouses
18 Condominium Association.

19 THE COURT: And again, the mule of me
20 wading through these documents, if you can 21 hand me cases as we go along, I will 22 appreciate it.

23 MR. SCAROLA: Absolutely.

24 THE COURT: Thank you.

25 MR. SCAROLA: This is our appellate

1 court speaking through Judge May, as I said,
2 an unanimous opinion joined in by Judge
3 Gunther and Judge Farmer. And I am looking 4 at the third page, the last page of this 5 copy, Your Honor, and it's the highlighted 6 language.

7 "This is not a case where the case had 8 never been at issue." Nor is this. "This 9 is not a case where the parties did not have 10 sufficient time to prepare." Nor is this.
11 "This is not a case where anyone was 12 prejudiced by the technical amendments to 13 the complaint." There they were talking 14 about adding a punitive damage claim to the 15 complaint.

16 "In situations where the parties have 17 received actual timely notice of the trial, 18 they are precluded from arguing prejudice
19 based upon a technical violation."

20 Here we don't concede that there is any 21 technical violation at all. But even if 22 there were to be, the Fourth DCA says not a 23 basis to disturb a trial court decision when 24 there is no evidence of prejudice. And we 25 are being told no prejudice.

1           THE COURT: Speak to me again about the 2           issue where, in a setting such as this, if 3           both matters were to be tried together, the 4           position that your client would be in having 5           to prosecute his claim and in essence try 6           potentially try to defend Rothstein at the 7           same time.

8           MR. SCAROLA: Yes, sir. I think that 9           that's really clear. The allegations 10          against Mr. Rothstein are, even in this 11          later version of the complaint, basically 12          identical to the allegations that were made 13          against Mr. Edwards. It is the complaint 14          upon which a voluntarily dismissal was taken 15          as to Mr. Edwards.

16          So the jury is told in a default 17          circumstance all of the allegations must be 18          accepted as true. And the only issues that 19          arise are issues with regard to causation 20          and damages.

21          We are contending that there could 22          be -- first of all we are contesting the 23          underlying allegations. The jury is being 24          told accept them with regard to Rothstein.
25          You can't accept them with regard to

1 Epstein, they are contested.

2 So that's the first problem. One jury
3 being told to assume two different things.

4 The other problem is, we are contending 5 that there could be no damages incurred by 6 Mr. Epstein as a result of anything that 7 went on with regard to a Ponzi scheme in 8 which he was not an investor.

9 We are also contending nothing about 10 what went on at Rothstein, Rosenfeldt &
11 Adler can form the basis for a claim because 12 of the litigation privilege, absolute 13 immunity of the litigation privilege.

14 So the defense -- excuse me -- the 15 plaintiff in the Epstein versus Rothstein
16 case begins their case by putting on proof 17 about how Mr. Epstein was alleged to have 18 been damaged by these absolutely immune 19 activities.

20 What do I do at that point? I must 21 stand up every time any of that evidence is 22 being adduced before the jury, and I must 23 object on the basis that this cannot apply 24 to Mr. Edwards. I'm in the position of 25 defending Mr. Rothstein, of objecting on the

1 causation grounds, of objecting that no
2 injury could have been caused, of objecting
3 on the basis that this is all absolutely 4 privileged information. And from the 5 perspective of the jury, I am now defending 6 this man who is sitting in federal prison 7 for 50 years.

8 And that simply creates extraordinary
9 prejudice to my client. It creates 10 confusion on the part of the jury, and it is 11 absolutely unnecessary; and, indeed, under 12 these circumstances procedurally precluded 13 because there is no default against 14 Mr. Rothstein.

15 So this Court has discretion to solve 16 the problem. You simply sever the 17 permissive counterclaim or the separate 18 action, and you allow us to proceed to trial 19 on a case that Mr. Epstein's lawyers have 20 said they are ready to try.

21 Let's do it. Let's go to trial. They 22 said they are ready. The Court has the 23 ability to cure whatever obstacle
24 conceivably exists to trying this case.

25 My client finally deserves the

1 opportunity after 3,000 whatever it is days
2 to be exonerated publicly of the terrible 3 charges that were lodged against him and 4 hang out in the air and hang out in the 5 cloud and hang out in the Internet some nine 6 million point six hundred thousand times.
7 We would like our day in court, sir.

8 I am pleased to answer any other
9 questions Your Honor may have. But clearly 10 the Court has got discretion to do what we 11 would like you to do. Justice demands that 12 you do what we would like you to do. Thank 13 you, sir.

14 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Scarola.

15 Mr. Link.

16 MR. LINK: Yes, sir.

17 THE COURT: As I mentioned, and I want 18 to give you the opportunity to comment on 19 this point.

20 In trying to think this through and 21 rationally engage in a discussion, quote,
22 technically and practically, I start with a 23 proposition that the last amendment to the 24 complaint that was filed on behalf of 25 Epstein was solely against Rothstein on a

1 singular count.

2 MR. LINK: Yes, sir.

3 THE COURT: Clearly that was done after 4 what was termed in quotation marks that I am
5 using, a counterclaim filed by Edwards at a
6 time when Edwards was, in fact, a named 7 defendant in that particular action by 8 virtue of Epstein's decision through 9 counsel, presumably, to no longer include 10 Edwards as a defendant in that action, the 11 terminology and the trappings that would 12 otherwise go along with a pleading entitled 13 counterclaim would dissipate, would legally
14 disappear, in other words, had Mr. Edwards 15 and counsel decided to file a separate 16 action.

17 MR. LINK: Yes, sir.

18 THE COURT: Had this case gone away in 19 its entirety -- let's say, just for the heck
20 of it, that Epstein decided to completely 21 walk away from the lawsuit in its entirety, 22 just walk away --

23 MR. LINK: Could have happen.

24 THE COURT: -- as many do, okay, there
25 was no longer a counterclaim, it is now --

1 and has really always been, since the time
2 that Epstein -- strike that.

3 That Edwards was no longer a defendant
4 in the case, a separate action, no longer a 5 counterclaim, technically or practically, 6 because there was no pending claim against 7 Edwards, at least as late as the second 8 amended or whatever iteration of the 9 complaint that was filed in September of 10 2011.

11 MR. LINK: Yes, sir. I understand
12 that. It's really easy. On Friday
13 Mr. Scarola figured this out. We have had 14 this case for nine years. His client was 15 dismissed in 2012. Why didn't he come here
16 in 2012 and say, Judge, this is no longer a 17 counterclaim, I want my own suit? If he had 18 preceded --

19 THE COURT: I don't think he needed to 20 do that. Why did he have to make a 21 declaration of such, when by operation of 22 law -- again using September 11th, the last 23 iteration of the complaint filed by Epstein
24 against Rothstein only --

25 MR. LINK: Yeah.

1           THE COURT: -- there is no longer the 2           trappings, the necessity of a counterclaim.
3           There is no pending claim against Edwards by 4           Epstein. It essentially -- it essentially 5           morphs, then or becomes -- better stated -- 6           a separate action, because counterclaim no
7           longer applies. It has no application
8           whatsoever. It's a separate action.

9           The only thing that it shares now --

10          I will give you a chance in a moment.

11          I apologize.

12          MR. LINK: No, you're doing great.

13          THE COURT: The only thing -- the only 14          thing that it now shares is a common case
15          number. That's it. Okay.

16          MR. LINK: That's no longer important.

17          THE COURT: There's no longer any 18          relationship --

19          MR. LINK: Not true.

20          THE COURT: -- Epstein versus Rothstein
21          is separate and apart, and has absolutely no
22          connection at this stage of the game -- now 23          there may be some tangential things that are 24          shared in terms of the nature of the case, 25          and some may even suggest that if they were

1 both separately brought that it could 2 constitute a transfer.

3 MR. LINK: Yes, sir.

4 THE COURT: Because it involves, at 5 least arguably, the same transaction and 6 occurrences that may have transpired here.
7 It may even suggest the potentiality of 8 consolidation. Though, on further review if 9 it would come before me and there would be 10 argument against it, the likelihood -- and 11 I'm just speaking generically. I'm not 12 suggesting how I am going to rule on 13 anything that's not before the Court -- but 14 arguably, it could be denied because of -- I 15 wrote down here before Mr. Scarola mentioned 16 it -- confusion of issues before the jury 17 and the potential, the real potential of 18 prejudice when you inject a convicted felon 19 with the notoriety of Mr. Rothstein, who is 20 sitting in prison for the rest of his life, 21 that's made international news, that 22 continues to be shown on CNBC -- I forget 23 the name of the show that has to do with 24 greed -- and what's happened now with 25 Mr. Edwards, in terms of the separate action

1           that he has brought, albeit, again, having 2           the genesis of the original claim, that has 3           been dropped. But there's nothing that 4           would have prohibited him from bringing a 5           separate action, nothing that would 6           prohibited severance a long time ago that I 7           can think of, because of the fact that they 8           no longer have any interrelationship 9           legally.

10           Now, again, I will grant you that 11           factually there may be some overlap. I'm 12           not suggesting that. But from a purely 13           legal standpoint, this separate action, 14           there is nothing that I can think of that 15           would necessitate these two matters to be 16           tried together.

17           And the fact that substantial confusion 18           could be operable here -- as argued by 19           counsel and as written down by the Court, 20           even before the mention of the word -- and 21           the prejudice that would be done here, may 22           even create a better forum for each of the 23           parties to get their justice that they are 24           seeking, i.e., Mr. Epstein's damages against 25           Rothstein. I am not sure whether causation

1 becomes an issue or not. I think it's 2 simply a matter of damages, but that 3 Rothstein has the opportunity to defend 4 himself against.

5 But Edwards, on a totally separate
6 legal theory, and in a case that now bears 7 no semblance to a counterclaim, has his 8 right to seek justice in a timely fashion as 9 well. Why not?

10 MR. LINK: My turn?

11 THE COURT: Yes.

12 MR. LINK: Okay. So many things to 13 say.

14 First, Judge, you nailed it. In 2012
15 Mr. Scarola could have come to this Court
16 and said all the things you just said.

17 THE COURT: What is preventing him from 18 having it now? What's preventing it from 19 happening now? Why can't I follow what I
20 perceive to be, as often is the case, as I 21 mentioned this probably before, the 22 practical nature of a judge like Judge May 23 from the Fourth District of Court of Appeal, 24 taking the bull by horns, as she often does, 25 has the gift of being able to clarify and

1 distill often very complex matters, to 2 provide not only legally correct results, 3 but practically correct results, which is 4 why I admire her writing and the way she 5 goes about things.

6 MR. LINK: As do we, Judge.

7 THE COURT: Why is it that somehow this 8 technicality, which really is -- which has,
9 in my view, no bearing on the legal -- on 10 the legalities of the situation, whether 11 were technically oriented or were 12 practically oriented.

13 But there's no denial of the fact that 14 this is separate, that this really is no 15 longer a counterclaim and hasn't been for 16 the last seven to eight years.

17 MR. LINK: Judge, we disagree with 18 that. I don't think it's that simple, I 19 really don't. I think we're confusing two 20 issues, and let me start there.

21 There is the issue of severance. It is 22 clearly within this Court's discretion to 23 sever this case. We are not disputing that.
24 We are not saying you should. We thought we 25 were talking about whether the case was at

1 issue.

2 But we can talk about severance and 3 whether it makes sense or not. And this 4 Court needs to understand, no matter what 5 Mr. Scarola wants, Mr. Rothstein is going to 6 be part of this trial, whether we are suing 7 him or we are defending their counterclaim, 8 because this case is all about whether we 9 can demonstrate that there is a connection
10 between Mr. Edwards and Mr. Rothstein.
11 That's what he says caused him harm.

12 We're going to be looking at evidence 13 at some point in which we believe with 14 100 percent certainty we can make that 15 connection.

16 THE COURT: The connection between 17 what?

18 MR. LINK: Between Mr. Edwards and 19 Mr. Rothstein discussing the Epstein cases 20 and getting around court scrutiny.

21 THE COURT: And that's fine. Why
22 didn't you plead it and maintain the claim 23 when you had the opportunity to do that?
24 Instead there was a dismissal of the claim 25 against Edwards and an abandonment of those

1 claims back years and years ago. And a
2 choice was made to proceed only on a 3 one-count complaint against Rothstein as of 4 September 2011, thereby, as I indicated 5 earlier, losing any trappings, losing any 6 indicia of counterclaim, at least by that 7 point and likely before that, because there
8 were several iterations of the complaint 9 that were amended, subsequent to the 10 dropping of Edwards from the claim, thereby 11 no longer making it a counterclaim. It was 12 in name only. It had no legal significance 13 whatsoever, except by name.

14 MR. LINK: It does, Your Honor. The 15 legal significance, if I can approach, is 16 laid out in our pretrial stipulation.

17 And the case law is really clear. When 18 lawyers enter into a pretrial stipulation,
19 Your Honor should follow it.

20 THE COURT: And I am wholeheartedly in 21 agreement.

22 Let me stop you there, because, again, 23 you have argued it, and I don't want to make 24 a short trip to that.

25 Then Chief Judge Ciklin in a case --

1           that slips my memory as far as its name is 2           concern -- spoke eloquently and at length 3           about the sanctity of the pretrial
4           stipulation.

5           So before I even read it, and what it
6           says here, you quoted from it, that's what I 7           read it. I didn't go back and look at the 8           pretrial stipulation itself, among the -- 9           just so everybody knows -- among the 1,239
10          docket entries here. So I don't want 11          anybody to suggest that it was simply by 12          virtue of laxity that I did not review the 13          actual brief.

14          MR. LINK: Judge, there's none of us in 15          this courtroom that have any doubt about how 16          much time you have put into this case.

17          And unfortunately there are probably 18          papers filed that you haven't even received 19          yet; filed before we got the notice.

20          THE COURT: You got my rather brief
21          response.

22          MR. LINK: The brevity was hard to 23          miss. We got it. And we filed these 24          before.

25          But the reason this joint pretrial stip

1 is important, Judge, is you keep saying they 2 are not the counterclaim Plaintiff, and 3 Mr. Scarola and I negotiated this together.
4 We wrote it together, we made changes
5 together. And every part of this pretrial 6 stip and the jury instructions and 7 everything we submitted to the Court sets
8 this case up to be tried, Epstein against 9 Rothstein, first issue to be cited, says 10 right in there.

11 The second issue to be cited, Edwards
12 versus Epstein. We've laid out how we're 13 going to try this case. We've attached
14 exhibit lists, witness lists. We do
15 stipulated facts, Your Honor.

16 So there is no part of the pretrial
17 that we entered into, long before
18 Mr. Scarola's motion at 5:00 on Friday
19 asking to sever this case, that was ever 20 contemplated by the parties.

21 We entered into an agreement, two 22 lawyers. That's what a stipulation is. We 23 entered into an agreement, Judge, on how we 24 would try this case. Now Mr. Scarola wants
25 to change his mind. This is our contract.

1           THE COURT: But it's interesting,
2 because in this pretrial, here is what it
3 says. Quote, case against Rothstein. What,
4 if any, damages were sustained by Epstein
5 and proximally caused by Rothstein?

6           MR. LINK: Yes, sir.

7           THE COURT: Parenthetically, continue
8 the quoted provision. Edwards does not 9 agree with this language for the reason that 10 the issue as stated fails to tie causation
11 to Rothstein's operation of the Ponzi
12 scheme.

13           It is Edwards' position that failure to 14 limit the issue in this way as to Rothstein 15 has a potential of confusing the jury in 16 determining whether Epstein had any probable
17 cause to claim damages Edwards arising out
18 of the same circumstances, end of quote.

19           MR. LINK: Which means if you limit it, 20 that prejudice is gone. That's what he's 21 telling you. He agrees to this issue. He 22 doesn't like the way I framed it. That's 23 the difference.

24           If I put his language in, which tied it
25 to the Ponzi scheme, he wouldn't have added

1           that. So all he is saying is, Judge, I
2           agree it's going, but I don't like Link's
3           language.

4           That is not him saying I reserve the 5           right to not go forward with this claim.

6           And when you read through this contract 7           between me and Mr. Scarola, as two officers
8           of the court, and Judge Ciklin's opinion, 9           and everybody else's, we are supposed to be 10          bound by what we say here.

11          So that means, yes, you have discretion 12          to sever cases, you always do. Severing the 13          case, if that's a decision the Court makes, 14          doesn't change the fact, that when 15          Mr. Scarola noticed this case, the one we 16          have a pretrial stip on, Judge, the one you 17          entered an order on, which was the case, was 18          not at issue. We don't like it. It is what 19          it is. It's the law.

20          And one of the differences in what 21          Mr. Scarola say and what the law is, is that 22          every case where there was a waiver or 23          technicality was post jury trial.

24          The Fourth DCA has said mandamus is 25          appropriate, it requires no prejudice, it

1 requires you to follow the law.

2 THE COURT: So what Mr. Link is saying,
3 Mr. Scarola, is that if I grant the motion
4 for severance, this case is going to go up
5 on a writ or mandamus?

6 MR. LINK: I don't mean it in a 7 threatening way, Judge.

8 THE COURT: I don't take it that way.

9 MR. LINK: But that is the truth.

10 THE COURT: McLean Stevenson once said
11 to Frank Burns, "Frank, you've gone over my 12 head so many times, I have footprints on my 13 scalp."

14 MR. LINK: Here is the easy fix. We 15 don't need mandamus. If you decide to sever 16 the cases for whatever reason, 20 days from 17 today, Mr. Scarola can notice his case for 18 trial and you can set it for 30, and we will 19 be here to try the case, and we won't seek a 20 continuance.

21 I don't think you should sever them,
22 but that's within your discretion. But you
23 can't fix today what was wrong in May, 24 that's the problem.

25 THE COURT: The pretrial stipulation,

1 just for record, the case I keep on my bench
2 is Palm Beach Polo holdings, Inc., et. al
3 versus Broward Marine, Inc. I have the 4 original email from the Fourth District
5 Court of Appeal copy. So I don't have a 6 cite for you, but it's from 2015. That's 7 easily accessible if you'd like to read it.

8 MR. LINK: Thank you.

9 I know Mr. Scarola said they're excited 10 to try the case, believe me, Judge, we are 11 really excited to try the case.

12 The evidence that we recently
13 discovered --

14 THE COURT: Then waive the 15 technicality. If you are so excited about 16 it, then waive the technicality.

17 MR. LINK: I won't do that, Judge.

18 THE COURT: Well, repeatedly you
19 indicate that -- you have indicated today
20 how excited you are about trying the case.

21 MR. LINK: I am.

22 THE COURT: Yet --

23 MR. LINK: With the best judge in the 24 circuit.

25 THE COURT: Thanks.

1           MR. LINK: For this case. How's that?

2           So I don't get in trouble with the other
3           judges. Did I save myself there?

4           THE COURT: Another TV show. Quit
5           telling her how beautiful she is, we all 6           know you are lying. You can figure that one 7           out yourself. But anyway -- that's the 8           husband speaking about.

9           MR. LINK: I am excitedly cautious and 10          I cannot waive the legal right.

11          THE COURT: Well, that's what I'm 12          trying to say about your excitement. The 13          repetitive statement made in the motion is 14          that your client is unwilling to waive the 15          technical issue.

16          MR. LINK: We don't think it's 17          technical. I think that's the difference.

18          MS. ROCKENBACH: May I just jump in?

19          THE COURT: It is my respectful view, 20          hyper technical under these set of facts.
21          The hyper technicality arises because of 22          what I have already explained in detail.
23          And that is, that this is really not a 24          counterclaim, and hasn't been a counterclaim
25          since Mr. Epstein made his decision to drop

1 Edwards from the case, which only provided
2 the genesis for what was at the time a 3 counterclaim technically. Perhaps even that 4 might be able to be argued because of the 5 fact that it came after the dropping of 6 Edwards as a party to the claim. But 7 certainly, without equivocation, after the 8 second and third and whatever else
9 iterations of the complaint as amended as of 10 September of 2011, there was no semblance of 11 a counterclaim because he was no longer a 12 party defendant in the claim made by Epstein 13 against Rothstein only. And that's where 14 I'm talking about hyper technicality, that 15 despite the eagerness on the part of Epstein 16 to try the case, as enunciated by Mr. Link 17 repeatedly --

18 MR. LINK: Mr. Link's excitement.

19 THE COURT: Well, I presume always that 20 counsel is speaking by and for his or her 21 client.

22 MR. LINK: I am, Your Honor, but I am 23 personally excited.

24 THE COURT: Good. But again, it is 25 without the willingness to waive the hyper

1 technicality.

2 Ms. Rockenbach.

3 MS. ROCKENBACH: Your Honor, I just 4 wanted to add an appellate point. It sounds
5 like you and I are both mutual fans of Judge 6 Melanie May's clarity. She authored both of 7 the Fourth DCA's decisions that you are 8 guided by, the genuine parts decision as 9 well as the Labor Ready decision. And it -- 10 submitted to the court, is not a hyper 11 technicality in that the rule says shall,
12 it's mandatory rule, and that is what Judge 13 May was noting and approving and recognizing 14 in the progeny of cases that existed before 15 those two decisions. I am referencing the 16 Bennett case.

17 What this Court has recognized is that 18 Edwards could have but did not move to sever 19 this case back in 2011 when Edwards was 20 dismissed.

21 THE COURT: Was there a need to do
22 that?

23 MS. ROCKENBACH: Yes. Absolutely. I
24 was thinking about this. In other 25 instances, I have had counsel come up and

1        tried to swap party names and drop, and 2        switch, and -- you can't just do that. You 3        have to actually -- I think there's an 4        administrative order on it. I think you 5        have to go to the court do it.

6                But in this instance, you absolutely -- 7        Mr. Edwards had the onus to come before this 8        Court and say a few things. He could have 9        made his case separate. He didn't, he chose 10       not to. He waited at least seven years or 11       six and a half years, by my count, to come
12       on Friday after 5:00 p.m. to file a motion 13       to sever the trial and use the at issue as 14       an excuse to sever.

15               He didn't move to sever previously. It 16       was not at an issue when he filed his motion
17       on May 24th, 2017. And there is no case 18       that Mr. Edwards -- no case that I could 19       find -- and I looked -- and there's no case
20       that Mr. Edwards has presented to this Court 21       that says, you can cure the mandatory rule 22       or defect of 1.440 by severing a 23       counterclaim or a cause claim.

24               The last point I would like to make is 25       Mr. Scarola said the rule 1.440 says a

1 party. It says, "any party." And that's 2 significant. The reason why it says any 3 party is that rule talks about crossclaims.
4 It talks about counterclaims. It talks
5 about any party.

6 So any party could have moved to set it 7 for trial. And when Mr. Edwards moved, he 8 didn't move as just Mr. Edwards trying to 9 set his counterclaim for trial. He 10 moved the -- the language is in my motion,
11 and I am sure it's in the Court's extensive 12 docket -- he move to set this case, quote, 13 unquote, and quote, above-style cause of 14 action, quote, unquote.

15 So he clearly could have moved to sever 16 at that time. He did not. He waived the 17 right to timely sever the action. And we 18 ask that the Court grant the default against 19 Rothstein today, unless there is argument to 20 be made, and --

21 THE COURT: How does this change,
22 though, your trial preparation if I sever
23 the case today as opposed to I severed it -- 24 Judge Crow, my predecessor, severed it back 25 in 2011 when it no longer was a

1 counterclaim, it was a separate action
2 sharing only the same case number?

3 MS. ROCKENBACH: It changes the ability
4 for Edwards to file a ripe 1.440 notice.
5 Because it was not severed, he noticed the 6 entire action for trial when the action
7 wasn't at issue. So severing doesn't cure
8 it.

9 THE COURT: Well, I am asking you, tell 10 me how, for the record, how it affects your 11 trial preparation or your presentation at 12 trial? I think you need to get that on the 13 record.

14 MR. LINK: Yes, Your Honor. It doesn't 15 change our trial preparation. It changes
16 how we try the case. There is a significant 17 difference in me being the Plaintiff in the 18 case and going first and my burden of proof 19 than what Mr. Scarola wants to be is the 20 plaintiff.

21 And he had a choice. He could have 22 filed a separate action, and he would have 23 been the plaintiff.

24 He chose -- he chose the vehicle. He 25 doesn't like his vehicle today. He decided

1 on Friday he didn't like it. But he chose
2 the vehicle of a counterclaim. That means I
3 go first, he goes second. He hates that 4 idea.

5 So it changes and it's prejudicial if 6 these cases are severed, because they are so 7 intertwined, Your Honor. I can't even think 8 of a case that's not more intertwined.

9 THE COURT: You have the right to go
10 first if the Rothstein case is before this 11 court.

12 MR. LINK: In that case. But I have 13 the right to go first in this case because 14 he has the counterclaim.

15 THE COURT: I don't agree with you
16 there. How do you have that right?

17 MR. LINK: Because I am the plaintiff
18 in the case, I go first.

19 THE COURT: You are the plaintiff in 20 the case against Edwards.

21 MR. LINK: No. But the first issue we 22 described in the pretrial stip that's going 23 to get tried is my issue against Rothstein, 24 that means I go first.

25 THE COURT: I agree with you there.

1           MR. LINK: I don't go first in the 2 trial.

3           THE COURT: That's precisely the 4 question I asked and it was not answered
5 correctly.

6           MR. LINK: Sorry.

7           THE COURT: That's okay.

8           I just want to make sure that we are 9 clear that if consideration is given to 10 trying both of these cases that Epstein
11 would be able to prove his damages claim
12 against Rothstein.

13          MR. LINK: Yes.

14          THE COURT: But as it relates to issues 15 on the counterclaim -- we are calling it the 16 counterclaim -- the claim brought by Edwards
17 against Epstein clearly, in that particular 18 action, Mr. Scarola would be bringing his 19 witnesses first.

20          MR. LINK: Absolutely, Judge. I think 21 I spoke poorly. I appreciate you correcting 22 that.

23               But the way the pretrial is setup and 24 the way the case is structured, the first 25 case the jury will hear will be my case

1           against Mr. Rothstein. Then Mr. Scarola
2           will present his case, and we will defend 3           that.

4           So one of the things that's in my mind
5           that I can't let go of, is how do we 6           sanitize Rothstein from this case -- that's 7           what Mr. Scarola wants to do -- when his 8           whole claim against is we wrongly filed a 9           pleading that connected Mr. Edwards to 10          Rothstein. That's what Mr. Edwards has said
11          has kept him in anxiety every single day 12          since December 2009, the connection to 13          Rothstein.

14          So, they have the burden of proof to 15          show that we didn't have probable cause to 16          make that allegation.

17          I promise you, Your Honor, when we get 18          through the evidence, you will see there was 19          plenty of reason to make that allegation.

20          So I don't know how you sanitize
21          Rothstein from this case. So if he's going 22          to be in case, isn't it more efficient to do 23          it once? That's what the pretrial says.
24          Mr. Scarola and I contracted to that.

25          The issue that really is the

1 struggle -- and I get it -- the struggle is,
2 yes, these two cases are intertwined. Is 3 there some machination I can do that would 4 put this case at issue? And the answer is 5 you can't. There's nothing you can do to 6 cure the May defect, Your Honor. That's the 7 problem. I know that's what you would like 8 to do. I get it.

9 THE COURT: Let's take a five-minute
10 break. We will be back momentarily. We 11 will be in recess. Thank you.

12 (A recess was had 11:15 a.m. - 11:24 a.m.)

13 THE COURT: Mr. Link, did you finish
14 your argument on the issue?

15 MR. LINK: I am confident I did, but, 16 you know, it's hard for me to turn down an 17 opportunity to say more. But, no, Your 18 Honor, I think we said it all.

19 THE COURT: Thank you very much.

20 Mr. Scarola, the one thing, again --
21 well, not the one thing -- multiple things
22 that went through the Court's mind when I
23 was dealing with this was the question I 24 posed to Mr. Link, and that is, that the 25 pretrial contemplation of the case -- of the 1 action being tried together. And the 2 anticipated response to my question that 3 trial strategy -- albeit now that we have 4 ironed out the way in which the order of 5 proof will proceed -- could be materially 6 effected, and thus prejudicial to 7 Mr. Epstein's position if the cases are not 8 tried together as noticed.

9 Your thoughts.

10 MR. SCAROLA: Yes, sir. I don't 11 understand what unfair prejudice possibly 12 arises to Mr. Epstein when the jury is 13 instructed that they must consider these 14 cases separately.

15 The only prejudice would arise if 16 Mr. Epstein is permitted to do what it is 17 now obvious Mr. Epstein plans to do, and 18 that is to use his case against 19 Mr. Rothstein to improperly influence the 20 jury with regard to Mr. Edwards' claims 21 against Mr. Epstein.

22 The Court recognizes the fact that 23 there is tremendous danger of confusion and 24 prejudice if these two cases are tried 25 together, following the plan that it has now

1           become evident Mr. Epstein plans to follow.

2           What unfair prejudice arises if these 3           two cases are tried separately? The answer 4           to that question is, there can be none. And 5           one of the reasons why there will be none
6           is, the separate case against Mr. Rothstein, 7           I predict, will never be tried.

8           If it is ever tried, it's a one-day 9           trial. It's a jury selection without any 10          opposition; there's a presentation of a case 11          without any opposition; there's a closing 12          argument without any opposition. The case 13          is over in a day. And what they get, if 14          they get anything, is an uncollectible 15          judgment.

16          THE COURT: What about the pretrial 17          stipulation? Judge Ciklin speaks, again, at 18          length, about the sanctity of the pretrial
19          stipulation.

20          MR. SCAROLA: Yes, sir.

21          THE COURT: He calls it the attempt is 22          to, quote, avail ourselves of the 23          opportunity to once again stress the 24          tremendous efficacy of The Pretrial
25          Stipulation. He puts each of the words,

1 "The Pretrial Stipulation" in capital
2 letters -- strike that. In capitals to 3 start each of those words, and drops a 4 footnote stating, quote, out of respect for 5 and to dignity the use of The Pretrial
6 Stipulation we have intentionally
7 capitalized the name of this important trial
8 efficiency tool, end quote.

9 MR. SCAROLA: And Your Honor, has noted
10 the operative language. Your Honor has 11 noted the reservation that is preserved in 12 that pretrial stipulation about concern for 13 prejudice.

14 So there's nothing in that pretrial
15 stipulation that supports the position that 16 is being argued on behalf of Mr. Epstein,
17 and that is, that we have somehow agreed 18 that we are going to delay our right to 19 trial by jury while we wait -- perhaps 20 forever -- for the claim against 21 Mr. Rothstein to be placed at issue.

22 They can't get a default today.
23 There's been no notice. I don't know
24 whether they're ever going to get a default.

25 We become hostage to their decision

1 about whether they are going to proceed
2 against Mr. Rothstein if Your Honor accepts
3 the argument that they are making.

4 Now, I have had substantial experience
5 before this Court. And your Honor is not a
6 Judge who has ever been deterred from doing 7 what you consider to be the right thing to 8 do because there's the threat of an appeal.

9 They want to petition for writ of 10 mandamus, bring it on. And if the appellate 11 court believes that the arguments that are 12 being made today have merit, we will know 13 before we finish our preliminary screening
14 of the jury on Tuesday.

15 The Court will act immediately, knowing 16 that this case is going to proceed to trial.
17 And whatever concerns Your Honor has -- and 18 there should be none -- whatever concerns
19 Your Honor has will get resolved very 20 quickly under those circumstances.

21 If there has ever been an argument for 22 waiver -- if there has ever been a clear 23 demonstration of no prejudice, this record 24 establishes that.

25 Judge May's words, "Depending upon the

1 circumstances, the mandatory provisions of 2 rule 1.1440 may be waived."

3 They have been waived. They agreed 4 that this case was going to be tried without 5 any further delay starting next week. They 6 told Your Honor they would be ready for 7 trial. They told Your Honor they are not 8 asking for a continuance. They told Your 9 Honor they are ready and anxious to try this 10 case.

11 There has been a waiver of any 12 technical objection that might exist, but 13 there's no technical objection. There is no 14 technical objection.

15 This is a separate claim. It has 16 proceeded as a separate claim. It was 17 noticed for trial as a separate claim.
18 There is nothing in the pretrial stipulation
19 that suggests otherwise.

20 We have not stipulated with regard to 21 anything having to do with the Rothstein
22 case, because we don't represent 23 Mr. Rothstein. His signature and no 24 signature of counsel of his appears on that 25 pretrial stipulation.

1           This pretrial stipulation relates to 2           the trial of what is a separate cause of 3           action by Bradley Edwards against Scott -- 4           excuse me -- against Mr. Epstein.

5           Judge May, again, "Here the complaint
6           was filed in 2002. The parties had adequate 7           time to prepare for the hearing, and the 8           trial court had provided the parties with 9           the requisite 30-day notice. There was no 10          ambush or violation of the procedural 11          safeguards that Rule 1.440 was designed to 12          protect. That's this case.

13          There is nothing but, at very best, a 14          hyper-technical argument that is being 15          raised. They are refusing to waive it, 16          because they don't want this case to ever be 17          tried.

18          And if Your Honor is concerned about 19          the mountain -- the avalanche of paper with 20          which this court has been assailed, I can 21          assure you that it isn't going to stop if we 22          don't start on Tuesday. It's going to get 23          worse.

24          The defense, in violation of this 25          Court's order, last week listed 724 new

1 exhibits that they want to use. And they 2 are going to use this hyper technicality to 3 say the pretrial order was invalid because 4 the case was not at issue; a new pretrial
5 order needs to be issued; discovery is not 6 yet closed; we have an opportunity to 7 proceed to take additional discovery; and we 8 can amend our exhibit list, and we can 9 include 724 new exhibits, and more which 10 they say they are still finding.

11 The only way to put an end to this is 12 to proceed to trial as Your Honor informed 13 everyone we would, in no uncertain terms, 14 the last time this case was reluctantly
15 continued by this Court.

16 So again, my client has been waiting 17 for nine years to clear his name from the 18 defamatory allegations that were made
19 against him in a maliciously filed lawsuit.

20 He was accused of heinous crimes, of 21 being associated with one of the most 22 massive Ponzi schemes in history. And the 23 only way he can effectively exonerate
24 himself is by getting his day in court, and 25 he deserves to have that now.

1           So the solution is very simple.

2           Whether it's a claim or a counterclaim, you 3           have the discretion to sever it. It gets 4           severed. The case is at issue. It goes to 5           trial.

6           We are ready to proceed, and we ask you 7           for the right to be able -- enforcement of 8           the right to be able to proceed. Thank you, 9           sir.

10          THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Scarola.
11          Thank you, Mr. Link and Ms. Rockenbach, as 12          well.

13          MS. ROCKENBACH: Your Honor, may I hand 14          the Court one case? I apologize. It's 15          cited in my motion. May I approach?

16          THE COURT: Sure.

17          MS. ROCKENBACH: It is the Bennett 18          case. Because --

19          THE COURT: I have it. Bennett versus 20          Continental Chemicals?

21          MS. ROCKENBACH: Right.

22          And just to respond to Mr. Scarola with 23          regards to --

24          MR. SCAROLA: I'm sorry, Your Honor, 25          can we put an end to this, because there's a

1 lot that we need to do?

2 THE COURT: I thought that she just 3 wanted to mention the case.

4 MS. ROCKENBACH: I do.

5 THE COURT: I have it here and I have 6 it highlighted. I have reviewed the 7 highlighted provisions of the case.

8 MS. ROCKENBACH: Thank you. It is 9 about the fact that you can't cure the 10 defect.

11 MR. SCAROLA: I'm sorry. I'm objecting
12 to further argument, Your Honor, and ask 13 that we please move on.

14 THE COURT: I will give you a minute to 15 finish up.

16 MS. ROCKENBACH: Thank you, Your Honor.
17 In Bennett, the party, just like 18 Mr. Edwards is doing here, suggested to the 19 court to sever in order to fix the rule
20 1.440 deficiency, and the appellate court 21 said no you can't do that, and "The 22 procedure for setting actions for trial is 23 simple, but many attorneys are careless
24 about it. They serve a notice for trial 25 prematurely. This requires a motion to

1 strike. And there's not excuse for failing
2 to follow the rule." And it goes on about 3 how the rule is not directory, it's 4 mandatory.

5 So this Bennett case speaks to exactly 6 what is evolving here in terms of the 7 severance issue. It doesn't correct the 8 defect. Thank you.

9 THE COURT: Thank you.

10 MR. SCAROLA: Does Your Honor want a 11 response?

12 THE COURT: No.

13 MR. SCAROLA: Thank you, sir.

14 MS. ROCKENBACH: And, Your Honor, we do
15 have a motion for default that we filed 16 simultaneously. And I have a proposed order 17 for the Court.

18 THE COURT: Thanks.

19 I don't know if you've looked at the 20 O'Brien versus Florida Birth-Related 21 Neurological Injury Compensation
22 Association, a case which is from the Fourth
23 District, which indicates that it negatively 24 treated the holding -- at least one of the 25 holdings in Bennett versus Continental. And

1 it is a Fourth District Court of Appeal
2 case, similar to the reliance by Epstein,
3 principally, on the Gawker versus Bollea
4 case. Bollea, if I recall correctly, is 5 Hulk Hogan from wrestling.

6 MS. ROCKENBACH: Correct.

7 THE COURT: But again, this Labor Ready 8 case, authored by Judge May that we have 9 been speaking about, declined to extend the 10 Gawker case to its handling of the Labor
11 Ready case from the Fourth.

12 I haven't seen the O'Brien case. I
13 will give it a real quick look, so that I
14 can be as comprehensive as possible.

15 MS. ROCKENBACH: Is that at 942 So.2d 16 1030?

17 THE COURT: It doesn't give me a
18 citation in this. It just says Fourth
19 District Court of Appeal. March 18th, 1998
20 is the date of decision. It doesn't give me 21 a cite to report.

22 But I can look it up real quickly. 710
23 So.2d 51.

24 MS. ROCKENBACH: I am reading that case
25 right now, Your Honor.

1           THE COURT: By the first blush it
2 doesn't look like it has anything to do 3 with --

4           MR. LINK: We don't see a reference, 5 Your Honor.

6           THE COURT: It talks about fundamental 7 error, is really what it goes to.

8           It cites to the case and its citation 9 is, quote, We have not been as willing as 10 some of our sister courts to find 11 fundamental error where an objection had 12 been raised by the trial court -- strike
13 that -- had been raised in the trial court.
14 The error could have been corrected and a 15 new trial would have been unnecessary.

16           One of the string of cites cites that 17 Bennett case. There is no specific 18 application of that case to this one here.

19           My ruling is as follows: The Court has 20 in preparation for this hearing carefully 21 weighed the respective positions taken by 22 the parties. And I appreciate the 23 well-written briefs and the well-articulated 24 positions taken as it relates to this issue.

25           The controlling case here in the Fourth

1 District, as far as the Court is concerned,
2 is the Labor Ready Southeast, Inc. versus 3 Australian Warehouses Condominium
4 Association case. But not so much for the 5 Court's position that it's taking as it
6 relates to waiver, which the Court will use
7 as a secondary proposition in its ruling 8 today, but more so the spirit and intent of 9 the case and the message that Judge May and 10 her colleagues, in my respectful view, sent 11 to the trial courts and the litigators,
12 particularly here in the Fourth District
13 Court of Appeal jurisdictional area.

14 The primary ruling and what the Court 15 is going to determine here is that it will 16 sever the claims and will try and proceed
17 with the Edwards versus Epstein matter
18 commencing as scheduled on Tuesday,
19 March 13, 2018.

20 Today being, for the record, and for 21 ease of review, March 8th, 2018. Reference
22 being made to Friday, March 2, 2018. So,
23 again, for ease of review.

24 Because, frankly, when I'm reading
25 appellate briefs sometimes from the county

1 court, it makes it so much easier when the 2 trial judge sets forth the dates as opposed
3 to having to go back and try to reconstruct 4 the timeline when the court is making its 5 ruling.

6 The severance is based on the fact that 7 there is no legal relationship between the 8 Edwards case against Epstein and the damages
9 claim by Epstein against Rothstein solely on 10 a singular-count-amended complaint -- again, 11 forgive the lack of specificity as to the 12 iteration of the amended complaint -- but 13 again, as late as September of 2011 -- six 14 and a half years ago -- and the fact that 15 the Epstein team failed in its capacity, as 16 reasonable trial lawyers, to have secured 17 the default, if it sought same, so as to, in 18 good faith, maintain its claim against 19 Rothstein.

20 I have no recollection whatsoever of 21 anything coming up during the approximate
22 four years that I have presided over this 23 case in division AG of anything whatsoever
24 having to do with Mr. Epstein's prosecution 25 of that one-count complaint against

1 Rothstein from that September 2011 amended
2 complaint.

3 Meaning the entire focus of this Court 4 in the multiple hearings that have been 5 held, in the deluge of paper that -- in part 6 the Court brings on itself because of its 7 preference to have the hard copies, as 8 opposed to utilizing modern technology and 9 solely the computers. It's much easier for 10 me, frankly, and my eyes, physically, to 11 have the paper. It's not because of 12 necessarily wanting it. It's more so
13 because of it's easier on my eyes and causes 14 much less strain on my eyes than having to 15 rely on just the computer copy. I wanted
16 you to know that as well.

17 So severance in this case, whether it
18 was done in September of 2011 or even before 19 that, when the -- what is called the 20 counterclaim, but in this Court's view is 21 not. It may have been because at the time
22 back in December of 2009 -- if I'm not 23 mistaken is when the Edwards claim was 24 brought in against Epstein. That's the 25 approximate time.

1           So now we're dealing with approximately 2       seven years ago -- seven plus years ago from 3       the time that the action was brought by 4       Mr. Edwards against Epstein.

5           Technically, because there may not have 6       been an order signed by the Court, whatever 7       closing documents that are usually and 8       customarily dealt with in closing out a 9       file, may not have been in the court file at 10      that time, perhaps, technically, it
11      constituted a counterclaim. But undeniably, 12      the trappings, the name, the legal effect 13      was not a counterclaim at all, and certainly 14      bore no semblance to a counterclaim once
15      Rothstein dropped Edwards -- once Epstein 16      dropped Edwards -- I apologize -- and 17      proceeded solely against Rothstein.

18           And whether severance took place or a 19      separate claim would have been brought in 20      December of 2009 -- albeit because of the 21      potentiality of the pleadings not being 22      closed, so to speak, as to Edwards at that 23      particular time, so it may have been called 24      a counterclaim. But certainly, and without 25      equivocation, once that case shifted -- now

1 Mr. Epstein didn't have to shift it. But it
2 was by his own doing. He shifted it,
3 because he no longer had Edwards as a
4 defendant in the case. He took that 5 operative step.

6 So it was in name only that this 7 continued having the moniker of a 8 counterclaim, but it wasn't one. It had the 9 genesis in Epstein versus Rothstein, Edwards
10 and L.M. case so as to permit Edwards to 11 bring the claim against Rothstein. But 12 undoubtedly, it no longer was a counterclaim
13 for at least the past seven or eight years.

14 And in name only, I am not going to 15 remove this case from the docket on what is 16 unquestionably here a hyper technicality.

17 If I'm directed by the Fourth District
18 Court of Appeal to do so, I will, as always, 19 assiduously follow their order. But I do 20 not believe here -- because the focus of the 21 last eight years has been Edwards' claim
22 against Epstein. And in reality, in name 23 only, since the dropping of Edwards from 24 Epstein's case, his own voluntarily
25 dismissal of Edwards, creating a separate

1 claim, albeit having its genesis, as all 2 malicious prosecution claims do, in that 3 prior action, there is nothing that has been 4 argued to today to suggest that a separate 5 action has been, could have been, and, in 6 fact, is at issue here. And that has been 7 the focus, and the only focus that I am
8 aware of, juxtaposing the Epstein versus 9 Rothstein case here; that being the only 10 focus has been for the last seven or eight 11 years; and clearly the four years that I 12 have been presiding over this case, solely 13 the Edwards versus Epstein malicious
14 prosecution claim.

15 And again, I am not going to be bound, 16 and I don't think any trial court should be 17 bound by the choice of words that may have 18 been used to name a given pleading.

19 It's a separate claim, and it has been.
20 And clearly and without equivocation has 21 been since, somewhat ironically, what has 22 been brought this matter before the Court is 23 the September 2011 claim that was solely 24 brought by Rothstein -- I mean, by Epstein
25 against Rothstein.

1           It essentially highlights the precise
2           position that is being taken by this Court 3           legally, factually and practically. And 4           that's the best that I can do.

5           MS. ROCKENBACH: Thank you, Your Honor.
6           I have proposed orders that just simply 7           grant Mr. Edwards' motion to sever and 8           denying Epstein's motion to remove.

9           And I also have a default for Your 10          Honor, along with the motion for default, if 11          you would like to entertain that as well.

12          THE COURT: Any objection?

13          MR. SCAROLA: We don't represent 14          Mr. Rothstein, Your Honor. But I don't know 15          how that default can be entered without 16          notice to Mr. Rothstein.

17          He has a counsel, who has appeared in 18          this case. That is, in that case. I don't 19          know whether -- I'm not arguing. I'm 20          expressing a concern.

21          THE COURT: Excuse me. And I apologize
22          for interrupting.

23          What I was going to say is this. If he 24          has had representation in the case, then he 25          would have to be noticed in order for the

1 Court to enter a default.

2 MS. ROCKENBACH: Understood.

3 THE COURT: And since this is, again, a 4 later iteration of a complaint to which my 5 understanding was -- he did respond in some 6 fashion originally through counsel or not?
7 Or was he defaulted from --

8 MS. ROCKENBACH: Earlier on. I'm told 9 by co-counsel early on.

10 We served it on Mr. Nurik,
11 Mr. Rothstein's counsel. The question I am 12 asking is whether it was noticed for hearing
13 today. It went out yesterday.

14 THE COURT: That wouldn't have been an 15 appropriate notice. So it would have to be 16 re-noticed to Mr. Nurik, and we will proceed 17 accordingly once what appropriate notice has 18 been provided.

19 MS. ROCKENBACH: Correct.

20 THE COURT: I just want to make clear, 21 as well, that I have taken into account, by 22 virtue of the ruling that I have made, the 23 contention that somehow trial strategy --
24 and that was at the behest of the court. I 25 don't believe it was argued in the motion.

1 But again, in my efforts to try to be
2 as fair as I possibly can to both sides, I
3 raised it to hear from Epstein's counsel 4 what, if any, prejudice would be done by 5 virtue of the severance.

6 And again, respectfully, again, in my 7 view, I believe that the response that was 8 provided is, in fact, supportive of the 9 Court's position here. And, that is, the 10 added reason for the Court's severance is 11 the fear of the Court, again, by virtue of 12 its going through thousands of pages of 13 documents by now, hearing scores of motions 14 and being exposed to more, reviewing 15 deposition transcripts, having the anecdotal 16 knowledge that the Court has of 17 Mr. Rothstein's criminal activity, and the 18 fact that it is and was, and potentially 19 continues to be, because of the media
20 attention that remains -- just an example,
21 being a CNBC special that continually runs 22 on American Greed, I believe is the name of 23 the show -- that this biggest Ponzi scheme
24 in the history of state of Florida remains 25 very fresh in the minds of many.

1           And hence, a second reason, a third
2           reason for severance is the absolute danger
3           of confusion relative to a jury's
4           consideration of Edwards' cases versus 5           Epstein's case against Rothstein solely.

6           While facts overlap, the Court can 7           consider and would consider the confusion
8           issues as well as the prejudice, undeniably, 9           that would be done here if both of these 10          cases were tried together.

11          Clearly, as I indicated at the 12          inception of this hearing, I am not pleased 13          by the events that occurred here. No court 14          should be. The blame is several fold, 15          including the individual who is sitting 16          here, who ultimately is responsible for the 17          execution of that trial order. So I have, 18          to a degree, blame myself for the execution 19          of that order. And ultimately I bear the 20          responsibility of that, and I recognize 21          that.

22          But at the same time, as I have 23          mentioned on numerous occasions before 24          groups of lawyers, who have been kind enough 25          to ask me to speak on these types of issues,

1 just generally in terms of how we do things 2 here, tips from the bench and the like, we 3 so rely on the bar and exceptional lawyers
4 that we have here in terms of our daily 5 business.

6 That doesn't exonerate the Court in 7 executing the trial order. But it sheds
8 some light on the busyness of the Court, and 9 the fact that we are, at the present time, 10 as you know, responsible in each of the 11 civil divisions of anywhere between 1,100 to 12 1,200 cases to 1,5' to 1,600 cases in some 13 divisions. The lower number is done by 14 design because one of our judges has agreed
15 to handle the bulk of the tobacco litigation
16 cases, so that Judge has a reduced caseload, 17 deservedly so.

18 But it does highlight our expected
19 reliance on counsel so that these things
20 don't occur in the future. And it's a good 21 reminder to all concern about how these 22 things can crop up.

23 But here hyper technicality should not 24 stand in the way of a pending matter of over 25 3,000 days and nearly nine years.

1           And again, I do not want this order to 2           reflect a suggestion that the Court is 3           willing to deviate from the dictates of 4           1.1440 -- strike that. 1.440. But instead,
5           as I indicated before, the primary impetus 6           here is one of severance for the reasons 7           that I have tried to state as clearly and 8           concisely as I can, balancing the rights, 9           strategies and obligations of each party's 10          concern, balancing what I perceive to be in 11          the best interest of justice to all 12          concerned, balancing the rights of 13          Mr. Epstein to proceed against Rothstein, 14          but at the same time recognizing the 15          separate nature of Edwards' claims against 16          Epstein; and the fact --

17          Again, while facts may overlap, it does 18          not extinguish the proposition that the 19          Court has indicated, and, that is, whether 20          severance be done now, six months ago, seven 21          years ago, or eight and a half years ago, 22          from December of 2009, it would have been 23          the appropriate and right thing to do under 24          these particular factual circumstances.

25          All right, we have bumped up now

1           against the lunch hour.

2           What do you want to handle next?

3           MR. SCAROLA: The evidentiary issues
4           that have cropped up in past week or so.

5           MR. LINK: Would Your Honor mind
6           entering the orders first once we have 7           agreed to the language?

8           THE COURT: That's fine.

9           Off the record.

10          (A discussion was held off the record.)

11          MS. ROCKENBACH: May I approach, Your 12          Honor?

13          THE COURT: Again, commendation to our 14          court reporter, who is exceptional and 15          always such a pleasure to work with. We 16          appreciate her work.

17          There is a case that -- from the Fourth
18          District Court of Appeal that criticizes one 19          of my now former colleagues in terms of the 20          order saying, "for the reasons stated on the 21          record."

22          So in an abundance of caution, I think 23          it would be best suited for that portion of 24          transcript to be transcribed. You can do it 25          rush if you need to.

1 I am sure Ms. Sonja would be happy to 2 oblige to the best of her ability. And,
3 really, only that portion of it so that -- 4 my decision would need to be rushed, I 5 think.

6 MR. SCAROLA: Attached, for the reasons
7 stated on the record. Attached.

8 THE COURT: If both sides feel that 9 that's sufficient.

10 Ms. Rockenbach, is an appellate 11 specialist. I defer to her specialty.

12 Mr. Scarola, I know you have also been 13 involved in numerous appeals, whether 14 directly or indirectly, but your name
15 appears on many appellate decisions.

16 Again, I concede to your expertise only 17 to bring up the fact that one of our most 18 respected and one of our former circuit 19 court judges was criticized for the order in 20 the manner in which it's being presented to 21 me.

22 MS. ROCKENBACH: You're correct. I am 23 aware of that decision, unfortunately. And 24 I would ask the Court for a break so that 25 our court reporter could type up the -- not

1 just the ruling, but we need the entire 2 hearing transcript in order to have a
3 complete record.

4 So we would ask for a change in court
5 reporters, as reluctant as I am to do that.
6 I know it's my duty to my client and to the 7 Court.

8 THE COURT: I respect that. And again,
9 you will have to deal with Sonja directly.

10 For the record, again, I apologize for 11 not using her last name. We have known each 12 other for many years. And I know she takes 13 no personal qualms at it, because we have 14 spoken about that before. But at the same
15 time, any review by the court, I would ask 16 that they excuse my lack of formality here.

17 MR. SCAROLA: We have no problem with 18 breaking for lunch at this point so that we 19 can arrange a change of court reporters.

20 The only appeals I remember, Your 21 Honor, are the ones I lost.

22 THE COURT: Again, thank you for your 23 concerns and your patience as well.

24 I also recognize and thank Ms. Musgrave
25 for being here.

1           We will return back at 1:30, so as to 2           give you all some logistic assistance to try 3           to arrange, as you need to, for the court 4           reporter and transcript purposes.

5           Keep in mind that we will go to 4:30
6           today. And also, that I am not available
7           tomorrow. I have several panel commitments
8           for the bench bar tomorrow. And so that 9           would preclude any further consideration. I 10          do have a full day of hearings on Monday as 11          well.

12          MS. ROCKENBACH: Your Honor, before we 13          break, anticipating a potential adverse 14          ruling, I have a motion to stay the matter, 15          which is then immediately reviewable as 16          well.

17          The motion to stay that I have I did 18          not anticipate this court severing the 19          cases. It was only the adverse ruling of 20          the removal of the case from the trial 21          docket. So I would like to revise that 22          motion. But I would make an ore tenus 23          motion to stay this action in order for 24          Mr. Epstein to file the petition for writ of 25          mandamus as to the order denying the motion

1 to remove the case from the trial docket and 2 a petition for writ or certiorari as to the 3 order granting Mr. Edwards' motion to sever.

4 THE COURT: Mr. Scarola.

5 MR. SCAROLA: We would clearly object
6 to a stay, Your Honor. It would effectively
7 be granting the same relief that the defense 8 has been unsuccessful in obtaining.

9 We are confident that Your Honor's 10 order will withstand appellate review. And 11 a petition for writ of mandamus is an 12 expedited proceeding. I am sure we will 13 hear from the appellate court if they have 14 any reason whatsoever to question the 15 propriety of the order that Your Honor has 16 entered.

17 THE COURT: The motion to stay from 18 this Court is denied.

19 MR. SCAROLA: Your Honor, I expect what 20 we will deal with after lunch are issues
21 that relate to the most recently disclosed
22 documents, including, in particular, emails.

23 THE WITNESS: That's what I anticipate.

24 MR. SCAROLA: And I have a timeline,
25 which I provided to opposing counsel. I am

1 going to hand that to Your Honor in case you
2 want to chew on that over lunch.

3 MS. ROCKENBACH: Your Honor, if I may 4 approach.

5 THE COURT: Sure.

6 MS. ROCKENBACH: I have one submission
7 to the Court. It was hand-delivered 8 yesterday before we received your judicial 9 assistant's email about no future
10 submissions. But it relates to this issue.

11 THE COURT: I can't promise you that I
12 will have time to read it.

13 MS. ROCKENBACH: Understood.

14 THE COURT: I will do the best I can.

15 MS. ROCKENBACH: Thank you very much.

16 THE COURT: Thank you all again for 17 your excellent presentations and arguments.
18 We will be in recess until 1:30.

MR. SCAROLA: Thank you, sir.

Your Honor, have we decided what motions we're going to hear?

9

10

THE COURT: Yes. My understanding as I left was going to be Edwards' Second Supplement to Motion in Limine Addressing Scope of Admissible
Evidence, and of course in that same vein Epstein's Notice of Service of Unredacted Appendix in 15 Support -- or Response in Opposition to Edwards'

16 Second Supplemental Motion in Limine addressing 17 Scope of Admissible Evidence.

18 MR. SCAROLA: Your Honor, there are actually 19 multiple submissions to the Court to deal with 20 closely-related issues, and those issues arise out 21 of the fact that over the course of the last three 22 weeks 724 new exhibits have been added to the 23 exhibit list of the defendant Epstein.

24 And just to provide some general background, 25 some of which your Honor may recall, there was an

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.

4

1 exhibit list filed by Mr. Epstein on November 16, 2 2017. That same exhibit list was attached to the 3 pretrial stipulation on December 22, 2017. And 4 then for the first time on March 5th of 2018 the 5 new exhibit list was filed. If you compare the 6 exhibit lists of November 16th and December 22nd,
7 which, as I said, are the same, with the March 5th
8 exhibit list, 25 new exhibits -- excuse me -- 724
9 new exhibits were added.

10 Your Honor held a hearing in this matter on 11 December 5th and made it clear to all parties that 12 exhibits that were not disclosed by the end of 13 December -- and I think it may have been the 14 December 22 date -- I'm not sure about that exact 15 date -- but exhibits that were not specifically 16 disclosed would not be permitted to be used at 17 trial. You made it clear that catchall listings 18 would be unacceptable; that specific individual
19 exhibits needed to be listed. I'm sure your Honor 20 has a recollection of those circumstances. And 21 that, obviously, is a fairly standard order that 22 your Honor adheres to in connection with trial 23 practice.
24 THE COURT: What I just wanted to point out is 25 in conjunction with what we're going to be

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.

5

1 eventually talking about, we're now dealing with 2 the Motion to Strike Epstein's Untimely 3 Supplemental Exhibits and to Strike All Exhibits
4 and Any Reference to Documents Containing 5 Privileged Materials Listed on Edwards' Privilege

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

6 Log.

7 MR. SCAROLA: Yes, sir.

8 THE COURT: That led into what I described 9 earlier of the motions that will be on the table.

10 MR. SCAROLA: That's correct. And that's why
11 I acknowledged, your Honor, that we're really 12 dealing with a number of closely-related motions.

13 So the first issue is a procedural issue; and 14 that is, whether your Honor is going to allow the 15 listing and use of 724 new exhibits. And my 16 suggestion to the Court is that that is a threshold 17 issue that really helps to resolve much of what 18 follows because if, as a matter of procedure, those 19 724 new exhibits are not going to be used, then 20 much of the rest of the argument becomes 21 irrelevant. There are, however, very significant 22 substantive issues if the procedural determination 23 does not dispose of the use of those exhibits.

24 THE COURT: These exhibits specifically were 25 added when?

1 MR. SCAROLA: They were added by a new list
2 filed on March 5th of 2018.

3 THE COURT: Okay. Just to put this into 4 perspective, March 5th would have been Monday of 5 this week, today being March 8th, and the trial 6 starting on March 13th, presuming it begins as 7 scheduled.

8 MR. SCAROLA: Yes, sir. But I want to make it
9 clear that while the 724 were never listed on a 10 prior exhibit list before March 5, some of those 11 documents were disclosed to us over the past three 12 weeks. So I am not suggesting to your Honor that 13 the first notice we got of an intent to attempt to 14 use these documents was March 5. The first notice 15 we got of an intent to attempt to use some of these 16 documents started some three weeks ago as new 17 disclosures were sent to us.

18 And again, this is from memory, but I think 19 there may have been three separate groups of 20 documents that were sent to us not covering all of 21 the 724. And obviously, your Honor knows from the 22 materials that you have reviewed much attention was 23 focused on documents that we contend and have 24 contended for eight years are privileged documents.

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

1 And those are 45 of the 724 newly-listed documents.
2 And those documents were brought to our attention
3 just last week.

4 So my suggestion to your Honor is that we deal
5 first with the procedural issue because, as I said, 6 that will narrow issues significantly. And then 7 there will still remain some substantive issues 8 with regard specifically to any attempted use of 9 privileged materials.

10 Now, your Honor heard from both opposing 11 counsel that I have accused them of having stolen 12 the documents. I assure your Honor that that's not 13 the case. I have not accused them of having stolen
14 the documents. What I have said in repeated 15 communication is that these are stolen documents.
16 And these documents, if your Honor has had an 17 opportunity to look at the timeline, were very 18 clearly at this point handed over by the bankruptcy
19 court to Fowler White for one purpose and one 20 purpose only; and that was to print them out, Bates

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript -- Afternoon Session

21 stamp them so that they could be turned over for 22 privilege review by the Farmer Jaffe law firm, 23 including specifically Brad Edwards.

24 THE COURT: Let me stop you there so we can 25 put this in context.

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.

8

1 Joe Ackerman, as I recollect, was representing 2 Mr. Epstein for some period of time, and he was at 3 that juncture associated with the Fowler White firm 4 in some capacity.

5 MR. SCAROLA: Yes, sir. That's correct.

6 THE COURT: So if I'm understanding this 7 correctly then, the bankruptcy court turned the 8 documents over to Fowler White.

9 MR. SCAROLA: Did your Honor want me to get 10 into that now? I'm happy to do that.

11 THE COURT: So that I understand. I know 12 during a very tumultuous period of time these would 13 be the Rothstein firm's employee.

14 MR. SCAROLA: Yes, sir. Let me go through 15 this and give you a quick overview, although all

16 the details are provided in the timeline that I
17 provided to your Honor.

18 What happened was that almost immediately
19 following the implosion of the Rothstein, 20 Rosenfeldt, Adler firm a trustee was appointed by 21 the bankruptcy court to take control of the firm, 22 and that trustee took control of all of the firm's 23 files and all of the firm's electronic data, 24 including all of its e-mail servers. So it is the 25 trustee that had possession of all of these

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

1 e-mails.

2 Mr. Epstein through counsel, and at this point 3 it was the Fowler White firm, issued a subpoena in 4 our civil litigation, then pending in front of 5 Judge Crow, for the trustee to produce all of the 6 e-mails. Judge Ray, to whom that subpoena was 7 referred, Judge Ray appointed Judge Carney as a 8 special master to make a determination as to what 9 could appropriately be turned over because 10 obviously these were e-mails that related to a wide 11 variety of cases. It was the entire contents of

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

12 the e-mail server of Rothstein, Rosenfeldt, Adler, 13 and it was recognized that those e-mails could 14 contain attorney/client and work product privileged 15 materials. So Judge Carney was appointed a special 16 master to make a determination as to what should 17 and could be turned over and report back to Judge 18 Ray.

19 Judge Carney gets 27,000 e-mails and Judge 20 Carney says, "I don't have an appreciation as to 21 what may be privileged here. We need to come up 22 with a procedure so that I can be advised of what 23 privilege assertions are being raised." So Judge 24 Carney says, "I want what was then the newly-formed 25 law firm that Mr. Edwards is working in, I want

NOT A CERTIFIED COPY
PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

10

1 Jaffe, Weissing, Edwards, Fistos and Lehrman" --

2 THE COURT: Farmer Jaffe, right?

3 MR. SCAROLA: Yes. Farmer Jaffe.

4 THE COURT: We can just refer to them as 5 Farmer Jaffe.

6 MR. SCAROLA: All right. "I want Farmer Jaffe

7 to go through these e-mails and prepare a privilege
8 log. Let me know what's privileged here, and then 9 I'll make a determination as to what's going to get 10 turned over."

11 The response from Mr. Edward through me is 12 this is 27,000 e-mails, they want them, they should 13 be responsible for printing them and Bates stamping 14 them and delivering those printed and Bates stamped 15 documents to us for our review. And Judge Ray 16 enters an order.

17 And Judge Ray says in his order -- and it's 18 quoted in relevant part at the bottom of the first 19 page of this timeline -- Judge Ray says the law
20 firm of Fowler White will print a hard copy of all 21 the documents contained on the disks with Bates 22 numbers added and will provide a set of copied, 23 stamped documents to the special master and an 24 identical set to Farmer, who will use the same to 25 create its privilege log.

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

1 And Judge Ray, federal bankruptcy Judge Ray, 2 says, "Fowler White will not retain any copies of 3 the documents contained on the disk provided to it 4 nor shall any images or copies of said documents be 5 retained in the memory of Fowler White's copiers.

6 Should it be determined that Fowler White or 7 Epstein retained images or copies of the subject
8 documents on its computer or otherwise, the Court 9 retains jurisdiction to award sanctions in favor of 10 Farmer, Brad Edwards or his client."

11 So it was obvious that what was to happen at 12 that point was they were to take over the 13 ministerial task as officers of the court of 14 bearing the expense to turn these documents over to 15 Farmer Jaffe and Brad Edwards for purposes of 16 preparing a privilege log.

17 THE COURT: For lack of a better metaphor, 18 though, wasn't that a fox in a henhouse type of 19 situation?

20 MR. SCAROLA: Well, sir, were these not 21 officers of the court, the answer to that question 22 is yes. These were adversaries who were being 23 given control over these documents, but they were 24 adversaries who had a sworn duty to follow the 25 Court's direction. And we had every reason to

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

1 believe that this respected law firm and these 2 respected lawyers would do exactly what they were 3 told to do.

4 Now, we know that the disk that contained that 5 information, as has been conceded by Epstein's
6 counsel, was formatted on December 10 -- excuse
7 me -- December 8th of 2010.

8 THE COURT: What do you mean by the disk was 9 formatted?

10 MR. SCAROLA: What I mean was the documents on 11 that disk were divided into three different 12 categories.

13 THE COURT: And that was December 10?

14 MR. SCAROLA: December 8th of 2010.

15 THE COURT: Thank you.

16 MR. SCAROLA: So within approximately one week
17 after being ordered not to retain any copies
18 there's a disk that is formatted by Fowler White, 19 which is the disk that is now in the possession of 20 Jeffrey Epstein and Jeffrey Epstein's counsel. And 21 it contains without a doubt those documents that we

22 identify on a privilege log that is generated as a 23 consequence of that process. It contains those 24 privileged and attorney work product e-mails. And 25 that assertion of privilege has never been

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

1 overruled.

2 THE COURT: Did the Special Magistrate Carney
3 or Judge Ray ever hold a hearing to determine the 4 nature of the privilege? Was that ever called up 5 for a hearing?

6 MR. SCAROLA: What happened, your Honor, is 7 that Judge Crow, when he learned of the 8 circumstances of what was going on in bankruptcy
9 court, communicated to Judge Carney, "This subpoena 10 was issued in my case. While I respect you and the 11 work you are doing, it is my job to decide what is 12 relevant and material in my case and it is my job 13 to determine issues of privilege in my case." That 14 short circuited the work that was going on in the 15 bankruptcy court, and Judge Carney never issued any 16 rulings in that regard.

17 So it then became a matter over which Judge

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

18 Crow was exercising jurisdiction to determine how 19 the subpoena issued in the Circuit Court State 20 Court case, how that subpoena was going to be 21 responded to. So our privilege log goes to Judge 22 Crow.

23 And there's some back and forth about whether 24 the privilege log is or is not adequate, and there 25 is a direction with regard to certain requests for

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

1 documents on the privilege log. Specifically,
2 there is a Request Number 13, which asks for 3 communications between Farmer Jaffe and the federal 4 government and communications between Farmer Jaffe
5 and any members of the press. And those are 6 ordered turned over. And those are turned over in 7 full compliance with the Court's order. But the 8 issues of privilege that were raised with regard to 9 both attorney-client and work product privilege
10 never gets ruled on by Judge Crow because before 11 they are ruled on, a voluntary dismissal is taken 12 of the claims against Brad Edwards.

13 So we have a privilege log in place. It 14 specifically lists these documents. Some of these 15 documents were listed as attorneys' eyes only. And 16 that restriction has never been lifted. And some 17 of these documents are listed on the separate 18 privilege log, and those restrictions have never 19 been lifted.

20 Now, in some of the communications that have 21 gone on back and forth you may have seen reference 22 to a disclosure to the Razorback defendants.
23 Excuse me. The Razorback plaintiffs.

24 THE COURT: That was the litigation led by 25 Mr. Scherer.

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

1 MR. SCAROLA: That is correct. The Conrad
2 Scherer firm was involved in that litigation, and 3 the Conrad Scherer firm was also interested in 4 getting to take a look at whatever relevant e-mails
5 might have been in the hands of the bankruptcy
6 trustee, and then got turned over to us.

7 Well, there were direct negotiations in which 8 I was a personal participant with the lawyers for

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

9 Conrad Scherer, and an agreement was reached with 10 the lawyers for Conrad Scherer because, as we have 11 told every judge before whom we have appeared with 12 regard to these matters, we're not attempting to 13 hide anything. You want to conduct an in-camera 14 inspection, we want you to conduct an in-camera 15 inspection because it will confirm that we're not 16 attempting to hide anything.

17 We will turn over anything that you consider 18 appropriate for us to turn over. But we have no
19 ability to waive our client's attorney-client
20 privilege, your Honor, and some of these e-mails 21 clearly contain information that originated with 22 clients. And we are in the midst at this point of 23 still-pending litigation, and it is important for 24 us to protect our work product privilege as well.
25 Some of that litigation is still ongoing right now.

561-471-2995

16

1 That's the Crime Victims Rights Act case.

2 So there is a very legitimate reason for us to 3 be concerned about protecting both the work product

4 privilege and the attorney/client privilege, 5 particularly protecting it from Mr. Epstein, and 6 particularly protecting it from Mr. Epstein now 7 that we know there was a clear violation of the 8 federal judge's order with regard to the matter in 9 which these materials were to be handled.

10 Interestingly -- and I don't know whether 11 there's any relationship or not -- but shortly
12 after this disk is improperly retained by Fowler 13 White, that Fowler White winds up withdrawing from 14 the case. So they're gone. And apparently the 15 disk sits there for years until a request is made 16 to turn over all of Fowler White files.

17 And what we have been told is Fowler White 18 initially, for whatever reason, resists that 19 request, but Mr. Link and associates go down to 20 Miami, they review files, they get their hands on 21 this disk. There is a significant delay between 22 their appearance in the case and when they finally 23 go to look at the Fowler White files. Then there's 24 a two-week delay between looking at the Fowler 25 White files and receiving the disk. And then

1       there's a two-week delay between receiving the disk 2       and starting to --

3               THE COURT: Excuse me just a minute.

4               Bailiff, see what may be transpiring outside,
5       please. Pardon me. Off the record.

6               (Discussion held off the record.)

7               THE COURT: Go ahead. I apologize.

8               MR. SCAROLA: Your Honor, in the overall 9       scheme of things, I don't think that those delays 10      make very much difference at all. But these are 11      the lawyers who, as your Honor has noted, announced 12      to the Court that they were going to be ready for 13      trial 90 days later, and here it is just weeks 14      before this case is about to begin that they are 15      first reviewing 36 boxes, or over 30 boxes of 16      files. Might have been 31. I think 36 is the 17      number. But boxes of files that never even got 18      reviewed by them.

19              So those are matters of significant concern to 20      us. But the matter of greatest concern is that 21      once it becomes apparent that these are documents
22      that are listed on our privilege log, a privilege 23      that has never been challenged, a privilege that

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

24 remains in place, and we notify opposing counsel 25 here is our privilege log, here are the numbers,

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.

18

1 the Bates numbers of these documents on that 2 privilege log, you have an obligation, an ethical 3 obligation, to turn them over to us, to turn them
4 over now, and to make no use of those documents
5 unless and until you have a court order that says 6 otherwise. You need to tell us where did you get 7 them, when did you get them, how did you get them, 8 to whom have you distributed them? And those are 9 questions that we still don't have answered.

10 What we get from the other side is, "Well, 11 they could have come from here, they could have 12 come from there, maybe they came from someplace 13 else, we don't know." And if they don't know where 14 they came from and that source is clearly a proper 15 source, they have the burden in overcoming this 16 privilege assertion to prove a waiver if they 17 contend any waiver existed.

18 It wasn't with regard to Conrad Scherer

19 because when those documents were turned over to 20 Conrad Scherer -- and we have the letters that 21 confirm the written agreement with every detail of 22 that agreement in place -- those were turned over 23 as part of a common interest privilege with an 24 express representation it was attorneys' eyes only, 25 with an express representation they would be turned

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

1 over to no one. Indeed, when they got turned over
2 to Conrad Scherer, they were originally turned over 3 with a confidentiality watermark on every document.

4 And then they contacted us back again and 5 said, "We're trying to OCR all of these documents 6 so that they are searchable, and we can't do that 7 with the watermark on them. Can you please provide 8 us with another copy without a watermark?" And we 9 did that; again, trusting these officers of the 10 court to abide by their agreement. And we have 11 every reason to believe that Conrad Scherer did.
12 They were not the source.

13 The obvious source, based now upon what we 14 have been able to piece together, is very clearly

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

15 Fowler White's improper retention of this material 16 after they had been expressly ordered by the 17 federal court not to retain any of it.

18 Now, every representation I have made to the 19 Court, everything that is included on this timeline 20 can be established through documents that pinpoint 21 the dates and the identity of the individuals 22 involved and the character of every disclosure that 23 was made and every disclosure that was withheld.
24 It has taken a substantial effort to put all of 25 this together again. We have been working on this

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

20

1 many, many, many hours. But the subject of 2 appropriate sanctions is a subject for another day 3 except to this extent: We need to know who has 4 access, who has had access to this confidential
5 material. We need to know if there's some intent 6 to call a witness who may have been given access to 7 this confidential material. We need to know all of 8 the lawyers involved.

9 And Mr. Cassell is going to address from the 10 perspective of the clients the concern that they 11 have about being informed as to how their 12 confidences have been breached. So with your 13 Honor's permission, I would like him to have an 14 opportunity to address the Court briefly on that 15 topic.

16 THE COURT: What I'd like to do, though, is 17 allow defense counsel to be able to speak to the 18 threshold Binger analysis dealing with the late 19 disclosure, because if Mr. Scarola is right and 20 that is that these exhibits were listed for the 21 first time in March, which would have been three 22 days ago, and discussed perhaps within the last few 23 weeks, then we would have essentially a Binger 24 issue to analyze. So Miss Rockenbach, go ahead and 25 proceed in that respect, please.

1 MS. ROCKENBACH: Thank you, your Honor. I am 2 certain that this courtroom is a place where we are 3 searching for truth and not hiding evidence, 4 whether it is evidence that causes conclusion by 5 this Court that there is no case to be tried. And 6 for the first time after four days of -- and we use 7 that word --

8 MR. SCAROLA: Excuse me. I'm sorry. If this 9 is one of the privileged e-mails, and I assume it
10 probably is, your Honor has entered an order 11 sealing these documents, and the press is present.
12 It is being displayed prominently in violation of 13 ethical obligations to relinquish possession of 14 these documents.

15 THE COURT: All right. In lieu of publication 16 in open court, why don't you just hand me the 17 document, making sure that counsel also has the 18 copy or is referenced with the correct Bates stamp.

19 MS. ROCKENBACH: This is the Bates stamp 20 e-mail 04408; an e-mail from Bradley Edwards to 21 Paul Cassell, October 17, 2009.

22 THE COURT: Okay. Is this an extra copy?

23 MR. SCAROLA: Do we have an extra copy;
24 please? There are literally thousands of e-mails 25 we're dealing with.

1 MR. LINK: It's in the appendix that we've 2 provided you.

3 THE COURT: I'm familiar with it from reading 4 the materials myself and I could probably put my 5 hands on it.

6 MR. LINK: It's in the appendix, your Honor.
7 Appendix 1.

8 MR. VITALE: Bates number?

9 MS. TERRY: 04408.

10 MS. ROCKENBACH: That's it. Thank you.

11 THE COURT: And I have it, too. I can get my 12 hands on it pretty easily, I think.

13 MR. CASSELL: Your Honor, if I could just be 14 heard just briefly.

15 THE COURT: Go ahead and introduce yourself to 16 our new court reporter.

17 MR. CASSELL: Paul Cassell on behalf of three 18 victims, LM, EW and Jane Doe.

19 We'd like the record to be clear that we're 20 joining in the objection to any public disclosure 21 or reference to these documents.

22 THE COURT: Well, reference and public
23 disclosure are two different things, Mr. Cassell.

24 MR. CASSELL: I'm sorry. Any disclosure of

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

1 THE COURT: Outside of the Court's review?

2 Are you objecting to my review?

3 MR. CASSELL: No. We're not waiving any 4 privileges, but we don't want there to be any 5 public reference to the contents.

6 THE COURT: All right. Thank you for that 7 clarification. So let me go ahead and try and put 8 my hands on --

9 MS. ROCKENBACH: Your Honor, I can give you
10 the copy that Terry noted was 04408. I don't need 11 it.

12 THE COURT: Okay, that's fine.

13 MS. ROCKENBACH: The purpose of me putting 14 this particular piece of evidence, which I've been 15 asked on multiple occasions by Mr. Scarola to 16 destroy by the barrage of e-mails over the past
17 four days, I'm handing it to the Court as evidence
18 of no Binger surprise. It can't be Binger surprise 19 by Mr. Edwards if he is authoring an e-mail with 20 regard to this very action that's pending before

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

21 this Court about five to six weeks before
22 Mr. Epstein sued him. So that can't be a surprise
23 to Mr. Edwards. It actually makes this case
24 incredibly stronger for the issue of probable 25 cause.

561-471-2995

24

1 But more importantly, your Honor, it's about 2 the truth. It's about the truth and the fact that 3 over the past four days my professional integrity, 4 my character has been impugned to the extent that 5 very simply we told -- actually, I didn't respond
6 to any single e-mail. For the record, Mr. Link 7 responded to e-mails. I didn't want to respond to 8 what I saw was escalating e-mails that started off
9 with a demand that we destroy evidence, which I
10 know as an officer of the court I cannot do, and a 11 demand to disclose who, how, where. And we 12 immediately did. Fowler White.

13 Then I had my paralegal issue an affidavit 14 that established chain of custody. I obtained the 15 Fed Ex receipts for the three boxes that contained

16 this incredible disk. And that's on file with the 17 court.

18 But the e-mails did escalate, and we were 19 asked -- no, demanded -- demanded on multiple times
20 to destroy evidence. I was called unethical more 21 than four times, sanctions were mentioned, the 22 words improper, unethical, six times, hid,
23 disturbing, misdeeds. And then last, but not 24 least, Mr. Scarola did in fact -- and this is not 25 privileged -- did in fact send an e-mail indicating

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

1 that he didn't want a special master, declined our 2 request for one because it does not take a special 3 master to determine that stolen privileged 4 documents -- this is for the first week, or the 5 first time the week before trial -- are 6 inadmissible. I disagree.

7 No court has looked at these e-mails. And 8 your Honor just asked that question, which was 9 really important, did Judge Crow look at these 10 in-camera and determine the privilege issue?

11 So I am very pleased and I agree with

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

12 Mr. Scarola for the first time I heard just now a 13 request or an agreement, not even a request, an 14 agreement that these should be looked at in-camera.
15 They absolutely should be looked at in-camera
16 because they eviscerate Mr. Epstein's malicious 17 prosecution case from proceeding.

18 THE COURT: Mr. Edwards.

19 MS. ROCKENBACH: Mr. Edwards.

20 But so disturbed was I by the barrage of 21 e-mails, I reached out to the former ethics
22 director of the Florida bar, a trusted colleague, 23 Tim Chinaris. I have the affidavit. I don't know 24 if your Honor has.

25 THE COURT: I don't remember seeing it.

^
PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.

26

1 MS. ROCKENBACH: It was very significant
2 because I was being asked to destroy evidence, I
3 was being called unethical for the first time in 23
4 years, and then I saw the word stolen, and honestly 5 my heart was broken. So Mr. Chinaris has an 6 affidavit that I've filed with the Court. He knows

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session
7 the information --

8 THE COURT: Is that in this?

9 MR. LINK: Your Honor, it's in the package we 10 delivered right before lunch.

11 THE COURT: Okay. I'll be glad to take a look 12 at it.

13 MS. ROCKENBACH: He was the ethics director
14 for the Florida Bar for almost a decade, authoring
15 thousands of opinions on legal ethics for lawyers 16 facing issues with regard to the rules of 17 regulating the Florida Bar.

18 One of the rules that I was thinking about in 19 terms of this hearing was 4-3.3 because both sides, 20 including Mr. Edwards, who happens to be party but 21 should be held to a higher standard than just a 22 simple party, has a duty to disclose candor toward 23 the tribunal. That Florida 4-3.3 rule is very 24 significant in this case because no one can advance 25 false statements or positions to this Court.

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

27

1 These e-mails, your Honor, go to the very 2 heart of this malicious prosecution case and

3           whether it can proceed.

4           But returning to Mr. Chinaris, he had three 5           opinions after reviewing the relevant documents, 6           speaking to both Mr. Link and myself, based on the 7           escalating accusations over the course of four 8           days. And his three opinions are reflected in 9           paragraphs 29, 30 and 31.

10          Mr. Link and Miss Rockenbach have acted in an 11          ethically proper manner. That was one. Number 12          two, the documents in question were not 13          inadvertently provided nor wrongfully obtained by 14          Mr. Link and Miss Rockenbach --

15          MR. SCAROLA: Excuse me. Your Honor, if this 16          is going to turn into an evidentiary hearing with 17          regard to the ethical propriety of opposing 18          counsel's conduct, I object to this affidavit as 19          hearsay and I want to be able to cross-examine any 20          ethics expert who is of the opinion that retaining 21          privileged documents known to be privileged listed 22          on a privilege log when there is no knowledge as to 23          the source of those documents and a court order
24          exists saying you're not allowed to have them, I 25          want to cross-examine that expert.

1 THE COURT: Well, the objection is sustained
2 in the sense that I really do want to, as I
3 indicated earlier, continue to as best as we can 4 conduct the proceedings in a way that befits the 5 known integrity of not only the attorneys here 6 before us but also the history that has been 7 pervasive in the 15th Judicial Circuit. So I don't 8 want this to dissolve into an ethical discussion as 9 to whether or not someone committed some type of 10 ethical violation. That's really not my focus 11 today. And that focus is better suited for others 12 perhaps at a different time and even perhaps in a 13 different forum.

14 Really what has to be attempted to be divined 15 today is some type of representation by counsel for 16 Mr. Epstein as to what the source of these 17 documents were.

18 MS. ROCKENBACH: Yes, your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Why were they preserved, how were 20 they preserved, for what reason were they 21 preserved, did that preservation violate or come

22 close to violating an order of the bankruptcy 23 court, has the privilege been waived? And then we 24 get back again to the Binger analysis.
25 I did a quick word search, and the Fifth

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

29

1 District provides us with some recent direction and 2 assistance and talks about the issue of surprise.
3 And it says, quote, "The opposing party also 4 earlier attempted to exclude the surprise testimony
5 by an unsuccessful motion in limine. Furthermore, 6 prejudice in the context of Binger refers to the 7 surprise in fact of the objecting party and is not 8 dependent upon the adverse nature of the 9 testimony." So that's where we are also going to be 10 focusing today.

11 But I don't want to get into a discussion as 12 to present counsel's ethical responsibilities 13 unless we have to as it relates to the origin of 14 how, if counsel is aware, these documents inclusive 15 of the e-mails, and particularly as it relates to 16 the 724 allegedly new exhibits being added formally 17 for the first time on March 5th, just three days

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

18 ago, and certainly outside of the Court's pretrial 19 order in terms of timeliness, whether they 20 constitute prejudice. So let's try to focus there, 21 if we could.

22 And I understand, just so the record is clear, 23 doing this for a long time both as a trial lawyer 24 and as a judge, I understand how feelings can be 25 hurt, I understand how people can take umbrage at

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

30

1 certain things that are said.

2 The beauty of being an experienced trial
3 judge, if nothing else, is developing a thick skin.
4 Sometimes I'll hear people say something and use my 5 name and they don't even know I'm standing there.

6 MR. LINK: That wasn't me, was it, Judge?

7 THE COURT: No. And I understand that there 8 are going to be instances where people are going to 9 think that I'm the best in the world and the 10 absolute worst in the universe. I've come to that 11 rationale pretty quickly. It took some time, but 12 it was fairly quickly. But I do understand. I

13 don't want anyone to think that I'm not 14 compassionate to the extent that I recognize that 15 there have been accusations hurled here which may 16 be minimally considered offensive and accusatory.
17 But let's move beyond that for now and let's get to 18 some of the issues that I discussed earlier that we 19 can focus on relating to decisions that I'll have 20 to make concerning the potential admissibility of 21 this evidence.

22 MS. ROCKENBACH: Thank you, your Honor. I 23 appreciate that.

24 And we have established the chain of custody 25 through the affidavit of Tina Campbell from our

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

31

1 office. So it is clear we did not improperly
2 obtain them, nor were they inadvertently disclosed 3 to us.

4 THE COURT: Tina Campbell is your paralegal?

5 MS. ROCKENBACH: Who obtained the three boxes,
6 the three boxes from Fowler White, which contained
7 that CD which is at issue.

8 THE COURT: I think the disconnect we're

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

9           having here today is not so much the fact that 10          Miss Campbell received the boxes or somebody got 11          notice that the boxes were there --

12                 MS. ROCKENBACH: It was an issue.

13                 THE COURT: -- and that somebody did what they 14          did. And there may have been an issue with regard 15          to Fowler White voluntarily turning them over.
16          Those are things that can be dealt with later on.
17          And again, it may be a different forum than I'm 18          even dealing with here today.

19                 But what I'd like to know is how Fowler White 20          got the documentation, do we to know that, whether 21          or not that documentation was obtained or retained
22          in a manner that either was in violation of Judge 23          Ray's order or walked a certain tightrope that 24          could be construed as a constructive violation of 25          that order. And if we know that, then it would go

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

32

1          a long way in me trying to make a determination as 2          it relates to Binger and its progeny.

3                 MS. ROCKENBACH: Thank you.

4 THE COURT: So that's really where we need to 5 focus.

6 I have no problem and I don't think
7 Mr. Scarola has any problem in terms of the fact 8 that you all did your homework; albeit, from his 9 position, late in the game, and secured this 10 information from Fowler White. The critical 11 question, though, is why did Fowler White have 12 these documents, why were they continued to be 13 held, and was it in violation either expressly or 14 constructively as it relates to Judge Ray's order?

15 MS. ROCKENBACH: Thank you, your Honor.
16 Mr. Link has studied this issue and will address
17 that.

18 MR. LINK: So, Judge, let me see if I can 19 clarify a couple of things.

20 First, these exhibits that we're talking about 21 from the disk, they absolutely were just listed on 22 our exhibit list. They were just located by us in 23 the last week. However, on our exhibit list it's 24 always been a general category, as Mr. Scarola
25 said. The reason there are 749 specific exhibits

1 is the clerk required it. So --

2 THE COURT: The clerk required it?

3 MR. LINK: Specific. You have got to do --

4 THE COURT: The clerk, you're saying? Or the 5 Court?

6 MR. LINK: The Court.

7 THE COURT: Oh, okay. I thought you were 8 saying --

9 MR. LINK: It's called the clerk's exhibit
10 list for the Court, but the Court did it.

11 THE COURT: So in conjunction with an order
12 that I had made earlier in the proceeding that I 13 was not going to allow general catchall types of 14 exhibit identification, I required that each and 15 every exhibit be specifically listed. And we've 16 gone through myriad exhibits in our quest to 17 determine whether or not, for example, the Fifth 18 Amendment privilege is going to be recognized and 19 other issues having to do with admissibility. And 20 that was generally followed, to my recollection, 21 because I dealt with many specifically identifiable
22 exhibits. So yes, I agree that that was something 23 that the Court had a specific interest in and has

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

24 always taken the position that all cards are going 25 to be on the table in a timely fashion so that,

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

34

1 number one, first and foremost once all the cards
2 are on the table, the law favors settlement, and it 3 may come to fruition, and has more often than not 4 resulted in an amicable resolution to a case. And 5 as importantly, both sides are adequately prepared 6 so that, as I mentioned in this Pollard case, no 7 one is unduly surprised by something that comes 8 before them at or near the beginning of trial.

9 MR. LINK: Yes, sir. So that is why we did
10 that.

11 The second thing I want to point out to the 12 Court is that Mr. Edwards did the same thing and 13 filed exhibits after the order, just like we did.
14 And I'm not complaining --

15 THE COURT: Well, if you're not complaining 16 about it --

17 MR. LINK: The reason I want to explain is 18 because in our pretrial stip I'm of the mindset

19 when we reach agreement, we have an agreement. And 20 in our agreement, your court order says no 21 additional exhibits unless the parties agree. In 22 the pretrial stip Mr. Scarola and I agreed we 23 reserved our right to add additional exhibits. So 24 in compliance with the pretrial stip and this 25 Courts' order requiring us to identify them, we've

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

35

1 been doing that, sir.

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 MR. LINK: So we are not in violation of the 4 Court's order. Mr. Scarola and I again agreed to 5 do this.

6 So let's talk about Fowler White because it is 7 as clear as mud. It is not as clear as Mr. Scarola 8 says. Here is why. If you look at his --

9 THE COURT: That metaphor, I'm not sure I 10 understand clear as mud.

11 MR. LINK: It's not clear. That's the point.
12 It's not clear, frankly. So it is not as simple 13 and clear as Mr. Scarola says. And I want to show 14 you why.

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

15 I honestly cannot tell you, I can't, where the 16 disk came from that end up in Fowler White's file.
17 I can't. We have looked for every piece of 18 communication, correspondence, we've gone through 19 their boxes three times trying to answer that 20 question. We have reached out to lawyers for 21 Fowler White. They have no memory of it. So we, 22 like Mr. Scarola --

23 THE COURT: Excuse me. Is Mr. Ackerman still 24 actively practicing?

25 MR. LINK: He is, yes. And we reached out to

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.

36

1 Joe Ackerman. Mr. Ackerman. Sorry. We reached
2 out to Mr. Ackerman.

3 Here is why it's confusing. And I think this 4 is really important to understand what happened.

5 When the trustee took over the files, there
6 was an understanding by Mr. Edwards and his firm 7 that there would be about 5,000 e-mails, and they 8 agreed to do a -- go through them and do a 9 privilege log. What's missing from Mr. Scarola's

10 timeline is that in November 2010 Edwards informed 11 the bankruptcy court that the trustee had produced 12 74,000, 74,000 pages of documents on two compact 13 disks. Not one. On two.

14 So then what happened, because of the volume, 15 Mr. Edwards and his firm goes in and says, "Judge, 16 we need more time. We did not know we were going 17 to get 74,000 pieces of paper and we need time to 18 go through them."

19 THE COURT: I may have lost you. The 74,000
20 pages were self-generated from the Rothstein firm?

21 MR. LINK: Yes. And delivered by the trustee
22 to Mr. Edwards.

23 THE COURT: And Mr. Edwards, you're 24 suggesting, indicated that they need more time to 25 review the e-mails or whatever documents --

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

37

1 MR. LINK: Correct.

2 THE COURT: -- they may have encompassed, and 3 to raise objections, and that forum was the 4 bankruptcy court.

5 MR. LINK: All this started in the bankruptcy

6 court.

7 So when Mr. Scarola says there was one disk
8 produced by the trustee with 27,000 e-mails on it, 9 that's not true. There are two disks and there's 10 74,000 e-mails. That's what Mr. Edwards 11 represented to the Court. I haven't seen these 12 disks, but that's what Mr. Edwards represented.

13 So what happens after that is there is a 14 complicated negotiation between the Fowler White
15 firm and Mr. Farmer, on behalf of the Farmer Jaffe 16 firm, about how are they going to take these 17 documents, which are not Bates stamped, not Bates 18 stamped, and they wanted a hard copy to review so 19 they could make a privilege log, but they didn't 20 want to pay for it. The trustee didn't want to pay 21 for it.

22 Mr. Epstein volunteered with the special 23 master -- actually, Fowler White -- but 24 Mr. Epstein's counsel volunteered that they would 25 use their machine to print out, print out from the

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

1 disk that had no Bates stamps on them, documents, 2 and Mr. Farmer agreed to that.

3 So they print the documents out -- long before
4 our time, Judge -- they print the documents out, a 5 set is given back to the trustee, and a set is 6 given to Farmer Jaffe. The machine that prints it, 7 according to the magistrate and all the 8 communications, doesn't retain any image. So we 9 start with two disks. To make it more complicated, 10 there was three. One had a problem. But let's go 11 with two disks and 74,000 pages.

12 They print them out. Hard copy documents.
13 One to the trustee, one to Farmer Jaffe. The 14 magistrate wants a copy, and so you will see the 15 magistrate gets two disks: One with 25,000 images 16 on it and one with -- I can't tell you how many 17 images because the special master says, "I didn't 18 look at it."

19 I think -- this is Scott Link guessing -- I
20 want to be clear about this -- I think the disk
21 that ends up at Fowler White was the special 22 master's disk. And here is why I think that: A,
23 it was in a file that said Special Master. B -- 24 none of which makes sense to me until we put this

25 together. B, there's a hearing where Mr. Scarola

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

39

1 says to him, "You, special master, review all these 2 documents." Just like he said here, he said it ten 3 times, "We have nothing to hide. You decide what 4 should be turned over." The trail goes cold. I 5 can't find a letter or communication from the 6 special master that says, "I looked. Here they 7 are." But I know this: The disk that was sent to 8 Fowler White to copy had no Bates stamp.

9 When you look at the judge's order from Judge
10 Ray that Mr. Scarola pointed out, it says Fowler 11 White will print a hard copy of all the documents
12 contained on the disk with Bates numbers added.
13 That's how they were going to do it.

14 THE COURT: And that disk, I presume, that 15 you're alluding to did have Bates numbers on them.
16 I'm talking about the individual documents.

17 MR. LINK: Yes, sir. They're all Bates
18 stamped. So they were not the disks
19 provided -- again, I can't say they're not. I'm 20 not testifying. This is Scott Link's forensic

21 review.

22 THE COURT: But again, Mr. Link,
23 respectfully -- and I appreciate you're trying to 24 put together and piece together something that 25 transpired seven years ago -- the problem still

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

40

1 remains the same. Frankly, it doesn't really 2 matter to this Court what format it was, who 3 formatted it or to whom it was supposed to be 4 intended. I'm sure there may be cases even after 5 this Worley case that we'll be talking about 6 tomorrow at length at the bar conference, but that 7 case stands for the proposition globally of the 8 sanctity in that particular case of the 9 attorney/client privilege to something so 10 rudimentary as whether or not an attorney referred 11 a client to a given doctor for treatment. And the 12 Supreme Court has clearly stated that information 13 is privileged and will not be divulged.

14 MR. LINK: Yes, sir. I was just trying to 15 answer your question about the disk.

16 THE COURT: Okay. So the point that I'm 17 trying to make is when I'm saying it really doesn't 18 matter, all of those other details, what matters to 19 the Court is, again, Judge Ray's order relative to 20 the sanctity of those documents, for lack of a 21 better term, the protection of those documents at 22 all costs, and that Fowler White shall not with the 23 threat of sanctions retain any of those documents.

24 It says here, "Should it be determined that 25 Fowler White or Epstein" -- so not only does it go

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

41

1 to Fowler White, but it goes to Epstein -- and 2 constructively, if not explicitly, by this order
3 extends to Mr. Epstein's legal representatives, 4 from this Court's interpretation.

5 MR. LINK: Yes, sir.

6 THE COURT: "Should it be determined that 7 Fowler White or Epstein retained images or copies 8 of the subject documents on its computer or 9 otherwise, the Court retains jurisdiction to award 10 sanctions in favor of Farmer, Brad Edwards or his 11 client," end quote.

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

12 MR. LINK: And I agree with that. The 13 bankruptcy court reserved that. What I'm 14 suggesting to the Court is I don't think it's as 15 clear as Mr. Scarola said. And he may go to Judge 16 Ray and Judge Ray will have a hearing. Based on 17 what we've looked at, I don't believe it's as clear 18 that that's what they did because it's possible,
19 based upon what I've read --

20 THE COURT: That Fowler White did?

21 MR. LINK: Yes.

22 THE COURT: So are you suggesting to me
23 that -- so that I'm understanding correctly --

24 MR. LINK: Yes, sir. I'm not here
25 representing Fowler White.

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

42

1 THE COURT: I understand. But you're here
2 representing Mr. Epstein, who by virtue of this 3 order that is being highlighted in part on the 4 ELMO, that Fowler White did what it was supposed to 5 do pursuant to that order, returned everything that 6 it was supposed to return, but through some

7 happenstance had the disk containing the very 8 information that was the source of Judge Ray's 9 order and somehow, therefore, should be exonerated 10 by virtue of the fact that because we really don't 11 know how Fowler White may have gotten it, but 12 assuming Fowler White did what it should have done,
13 miraculously this disk turns up in Fowler White's 14 files and hence we should essentially ignore the 15 dictates of the order?

16 MR. LINK: No, sir. And I think I've confused
17 the Court. Let me make sure you understand what's 18 on this disk.

19 The 27,550 pages on this disk, we've only 20 looked at 5,000 of them, okay? Of those 5,000, I 21 will represent to you -- and you can look at 22 them -- I don't believe any -- and I know none that 23 we attached -- were communications between an 24 attorney and a client.

25 I asked Mr. Cassell and I asked Mr. Scarola to

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

1 identify by Bates number if there are any 2 attorney/client communications and we would

3 segregate them. The response I got, every page is 4 an attorney/client communication. So that's one.

5 THE COURT: But that's not what this order
6 says, Mr. Link. The order doesn't say anything 7 about privileged documents.

8 MR. LINK: Judge, I understand that.

9 THE COURT: The order says that Fowler White 10 will not retain any copies of the documents 11 contained on the disk provided to it nor shall any 12 images or copies of said documents be retained in 13 the memory of Fowler White's copies. And we 14 already went through the sanctions.

15 MR. LINK: But we don't know -- here is the 16 disconnect: We don't know as we sit here that the 17 disk that we located there wasn't handed to them by 18 Special Master Carney after Mr. Scarola gave him
19 the job and said look at it and give them whatever 20 you think is okay because the majority of the 21 documents we've looked at have to deal with 22 scheduling and sporting events and going out
23 drinking and all kinds of things. It is not a 24 group of documents that are on the privilege log.

25 Here is the second thing we learned --

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

44

1 THE COURT: And is that going to serve as the 2 conduit to attempt to admit these documents into 3 evidence in the face of the order that I have just 4 read?

5 MR. LINK: Your Honor, I see the order. What 6 I'm trying to get across -- I'm doing a lousy job.

7 THE COURT: No, you're not.

8 MR. LINK: -- is that I can't tell you.

9 THE COURT: Try to get to the point that I'm 10 really --

11 MR. LINK: I don't think that we can conclude 12 today that this disk is a result of their violating 13 this order. This disk could have been as a result 14 of the special master looking at it and saying, "I 15 don't see communications between attorney/client, I 16 believe there's been a waiver of the work product
17 based on giving it to Razorback, issue injection, 18 all of these issues have been raised."

19 THE COURT: So now you're suggesting that 20 former Judge Carney, to my knowledge a very well - 21 respected jurist who presided in the Circuit Court

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session
22 in Broward County, to my knowledge, and has done
23 senior work here in the 15th Judicial Circuit
24 somehow engaged in some type of ex parte
25 communications with Fowler White?

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

45

1 MR. LINK: Judge, I can't because I've looked.
2 I have searched. I'm not saying that at all. All
3 I can piece together is that Mr. Scarola asked 4 Special Master Carney to do that.

5 This disk, when we got -- we put a sticker on 6 it. We went and looked at boxes and put stickers 7 on things. The disk said Epstein Bates stamp. Had 8 no idea what was on it. Looked like something we 9 should put a sticker on. It came in, the disk, and 10 we started looking at it.

11 When these issues came up, we asked Fowler 12 White to please give us the original boxes. We got 13 the original boxes and found the disk in a folder
14 that says J. Carney printing on it. That's it.
15 That's all that's on this folder.

16 There's no watermarks, there's no
17 confidentiality agreement, there's no stamps on the

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

18 documents. They are Bates stamped and there's a 19 disk in there. So what I'm suggesting is if we're 20 trying to figure out whether Fowler White violated 21 the order, I don't think it's as clear as 22 Mr. Scarola says.

23 Now, I wasn't there. I can't tell you what 24 they did, Judge. But I do know this: Many of the 25 documents that are on this disk and that are on

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

46

1 their privilege log have been used in this 2 litigation. They have been used. They have 3 produced some. They're exhibits that Mr. Edwards 4 has asked about and answered that are on this 5 privilege log. There's over a hundred of them.

6 So this disk is not a disk of their privileged 7 documents. It's a disk of 27,500 documents. And 8 what's the most important part of this is Judge
9 Crow never held an in-camera. Nobody judicially 10 has looked at these. And that's where we need to 11 be.

12 I don't think any of this matters. What

13 matters is we have the records, they're relevant, 14 this Court should determine they're relevant, see 15 if there's a privilege and see if that privilege 16 has been waived. That should be the process.

17 THE COURT: On Thursday afternoon, which is 18 going to be taken up by additional argument, where 19 Friday I'm a committed member to the Bench Bar, as 20 is encouraged not only by the 15th Judicial Circuit 21 and Fourth District Court of Appeal but also by our 22 local Bar Association, of which many of you are 23 prominent members here, so you know that commitment
24 must be taken seriously, and I do take it 25 seriously, and then Friday I'm booked up with

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

47

1 hearings on other matters of the 14- to 15 hundred 2 files that I'm carrying in this division, of which 3 this is but one, with the trial to commence on the 4 morning of Tuesday, the 13th of March.

5 MR. LINK: Yes, sir.

6 THE COURT: That's a big endeavor. That is an 7 endeavor that is beyond this Court's ability
8 physically and from a time perspective. So I'm not 9 going to do that.

10 MR. LINK: Your Honor, I know that you don't 11 have the time. I have offered them a special 12 master. They don't want to.

13 THE COURT: It's just too late.

14 MR. LINK: But Judge, the truth is never too 15 late.

16 THE COURT: Please don't interrupt me.

17 MR. LINK: I apologize for that.

18 THE COURT: Protocol dictates the orderly 19 administration of justice and, correspondingly, the 20 orderly preparation for trial. That preparation -- 21 and you'll be surprised when it comes to larger 22 cases like this -- not only applies to counsel and 23 their team of attorneys that the respective side 24 have, but it also applies to the singular
25 individual who is responsible for this orderly

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

48

1 presentation.

2 I often refer to a case that I printed
3 directly from the Fourth District Court of Appeal,

4 RJ Reynolds Tobacco Company versus Calloway, and it
5 talks about the trial judge's ultimate
6 responsibility. There it was to ensure appropriate 7 attorney behavior, but it talks also about court 8 exercising its control of the litigation of the 9 trial, of important pretrial hearings like we're 10 having here today, and talks about this is 11 especially true in lengthy high-stakes cases and 12 goes on to speak about what a court should and 13 should not tolerate when it comes to interruptions 14 and other matters that don't necessarily befit the 15 presentation of otherwise excellent counsel.

16 But what I was trying to communicate while we 17 were speaking over each other is that this is the 18 very reason why courts have spoken to the issue of 19 timely and reasonableness and preparation.

20 I can't speak to the matter in which this case
21 has been prepared by counsel for Mr. Epstein over 22 the last 3,000 and some odd days. I can, however, 23 speak to what is before me now. Why someone before 24 you and Miss Rockenbach got involved in this 25 case -- because I saw Mr. Ackerman's name in this

1 matter in the four years that I've been presiding
2 over this case -- I saw his involvement, I saw what 3 he attempted to do. His timing was critical -- 4 whether his work was or wasn't is not for me to 5 say, but certainly his time in which he spent in 6 representing Mr. Epstein would have been critical 7 to any successor counsel's involvement in this 8 case.

9 Thankfully, for the purposes of most of the 10 decision-making that I do here in the civil circuit
11 courtroom I had experience, and I gained a 12 significant amount of experience in a relatively 13 quick amount of time. It was baptism by fire, I
14 think some would call it. But I had opportunities 15 to get into the courtroom long before others did 16 who had the same experience level. Whether that 17 was good or bad, the results speak for themselves.
18 But I did have that opportunity. And to learn a 19 great deal, not so much from those who I work with, 20 but even more those who I work against, so to 21 speak; my opposing counsel. The wealth of 22 knowledge that I gained from how they did their 23 work was astounding and something that I cherish

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

24 even to this day. But what it taught me more than 25 anything was that preparation is critical, whether

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

1 the case is a $10,000 whiplash case or whether it's 2 a $10 million class action suit.

3 And the very essence of what's being brought 4 to my attention today, where requests are made for 5 in-camera inspections at a time that's essentially 6 two to three business days prior to the 7 commencement of trial, a special master to review 8 thousands of documents several days before the 9 commencement of trial for the first time, despite 10 recalcitrance from Fowler White, their -- somebody 11 reviewing their files apparently for the first time 12 mere weeks before the case is going to court, those 13 types of things have to be held -- I was going to 14 say in high regard, but what was meant by what I'm 15 saying is preparation in getting to these 16 materials, there was nothing that I knew of despite 17 again what appears to be brief recalcitrance on the 18 part of Fowler White to turn over the materials

19 themselves, this could have been done six months 20 ago, a year ago, two years ago, three years ago, 21 four years ago, five years ago, six years ago, and 22 it should have been done then. To bring these 23 types of matters before the Court at this 24 particular time is, in my view, inappropriate.
25 Now, if this was newly-discovered evidence

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

51

1 that was not in the hands of Mr. Epstein's lawyers
2 since 2009, whenever this all came to fruition,
3 then I would say we'd have to take a different
4 approach. But the very nature of the documents 5 that we're talking about -- again, rightly or 6 wrongly held -- were in fact held by Fowler White, 7 Epstein's counsel, at an incredible crucial time in 8 this process; and that being in and around 2010, 9 when the Rothstein firm imploded, when these 10 e-mails were apparently confiscated, when somebody 11 made the decision that instead of Farmer paying for 12 the copy costs, they be handed over to Fowler
13 White. And if I have a bit of an incredulous tone 14 to that statement, it's probably purposeful.

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

15 But the fact remains, Mr. Link, that these 16 materials were in the hands of Epstein's attorneys
17 from the inception of the issue itself. And to now 18 come to the Court with not five pages of documents 19 to look at, but 27,000, or whatever that number 20 is -- it escapes me because of its sheer mass -- is 21 impossible and is not going to be countenanced 22 here.

23 And I understand what you're going to tell me 24 because I've gotten a flavor for some of these 25 documents that have been provided.

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

52

1 MR. LINK: Yes, sir.

2 THE COURT: And that is that they are 3 detrimental to the position taken by Mr. Edwards 4 and that they are helpful to the position taken by 5 Mr. Epstein.

6 The issue, though, is one of whether the 7 protocol and the orderly administration of justice 8 is going to be forsaken notwithstanding also the 9 aspect of privilege and the sanctity of privileged

10 communications, whether all of those considerations 11 are going to be thrown out when balanced against 12 material that has been in the hands of 13 Mr. Epstein's lawyers from day one. And I, for 14 one, am not going to sacrifice protocol over what 15 may or may not be, number one, privileged, and if 16 not privileged, certainly late disclosed
17 documentation of a massive nature.

18 Should the amount of documentation be a 19 determinative factor in a court's analysis in this 20 context, based upon 35 years of compound
21 experience, bench and bar, and a little bit more 22 now than half on the bench, I do not believe that 23 the orderly administration of justice should be 24 countenanced and should be disruptive. Should be 25 disruptive.

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

53

1 And what I meant by that, should the 2 destruction of the orderly administration of 3 justice be countenanced? And the answer to that 4 question, in my respectful view, is no. Because if 5 I do it once, then I'm setting a precedent, even

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

6           though I know trial courts traditionally don't do 7           that, according to case law. And forgive me for my 8           choice of words, but as someone who is a senior 9           member now of the bench -- not a senior judge, but 10          a senior member of the bench -- that sends a 11          message to my colleagues that I'm not doing what I 12          believe is the appropriate thing.

13                 MR. LINK: May I respond, your Honor?

14                 THE COURT: Sure.

15                 MR. LINK: First I want to apologize. I did 16          not mean to interrupt the Court when you were 17          speaking.

18                 THE COURT: Not at all. Go ahead.

19                 MR. LINK: Second, we're not talking about 20          27,000 pages, we're talking about 49 exhibits.
21          There are only 49 exhibits that we are asking the 22          Court to look at. So that it is not 27,000 pages.

23                 Third, I think most importantly I absolutely 24          agree your Honor has a difficult, difficult 25          weighing decision to make between staying on course

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.

1 and what I think is more important than any of 2 this, which is getting to the truth. And I believe 3 in my heart, your Honor, the reason I'm so
4 passionate about this and the reason I apologize 5 for interrupting you is if this courtroom is 6 looking for the truth, then those 49 documents have 7 got to come into court. They have got to go in 8 front of the jury.

9 THE COURT: But they're not coming in here,
10 and I would hope elsewhere, if it's going to be at 11 the sacrifice not only as to the orderly 12 administration of justice, but also in derogation 13 of a federal bankruptcy court's order or any court 14 of recognized jurisdiction's order that would have 15 the necessary supervisory control of a given 16 case, but also at the potential extermination or 17 derogation of a privilege. And for all of those 18 reasons is why I am extremely reluctant to start 19 taking these things into consideration just a few 20 days prior to trial.

21 Again, if this was something that came into 22 play that was being hidden by the other side, and 23 I'm talking now generically, and your side 24 discovered that information at the 11th hour, this

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.

55

1 that's one of the things I want to emphasize for 2 this record. But that's not the case.
3 As I mentioned -- and this is the last time
4 I'll say it -- these documents have been in the 5 possession of Mr. Epstein from the inception of 6 this case as we know it. They didn't move. And 7 the problems that are inherent in this analysis, of 8 which this Court simply does not have the time to 9 address prior to trial, are all of those reasons
10 that I have just described to you: The disruption 11 of the orderly administration of justice, the 12 sacrosanct nature of the privilege, and of even 13 more importance is what I said I wouldn't repeat; 14 and that is, that at all times material to the 15 analysis, from the inception Epstein lawyers had 16 this material. And, obviously, the timeliness, or 17 the abject untimeliness of the request for the 18 Court now to take these matters into consideration, 19 where they are well beyond when exhibits that were 20 known or should have been known were not listed.

21 MR. LINK: Your Honor, may I have one more 22 shot, please? I know you have been very patient 23 with me.

24 THE COURT: If it's going to be any different 25 than what you've told me. If it's going to be the

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

56

1 same, we've already established, and it's a matter
2 of record, and I have made my ruling accordingly.

3 MR. LINK: Yes, sir. I understand that. I'll 4 be very quick.

5 You asked about whether there was any hiding
6 of these documents. And one thing I want the Court
7 to see is this: These are -- Mr. Scarola didn't 8 want me to put that up on the screen, so I'll hand 9 it to you.

10 If you look at the privilege log which they 11 filed, which Judge Crow found inadequate -- and I
12 don't believe there was another privilege log
13 filed, so I don't think there's a privilege log -- 14 but that's another day, another issue -- but if you 15 look at the privilege log and the e-mails that it

16 relates to, tell me if a lawyer looking at that 17 would be able to tell the real content of the 18 e-mails that Mr. Edwards was writing. Because I 19 think you have an obligation to disclose in a way 20 that allows a lawyer to make a determination of 21 whether it's privileged or not.

22 THE COURT: Mr. Link, you're making my point 23 for me. Mr. Ackerman, Fowler White, had these 24 materials ever since day one. I don't know how 25 much more I can make this clear.

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.

1 As I said, the analysis would be completely 2 different if it was shown to me that somehow, some 3 way the Searcy, Denney firm, Mr. Edwards, Farmer
4 Jaffe -- I was going to say Ron Rothstein, but I
5 don't want to get him confused with the well-
6 respected coach and former coach of the Heat -- 7 Scott Rothstein was sitting on this stuff. That's 8 not what happened here. That's the point that I'm 9 trying to drive home and emphasize. Is not only 10 the issue of timeliness, not only the issue of the 11 privilege has not been tested, but first and

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

12 foremost is the fact that Fowler White, Epstein's 13 own lawyers, have been sitting on this from day one 14 for seven, eight years.

15 MR. LINK: But we don't know -- the point I'm 16 trying to make, I don't know that they looked at 17 it.

18 THE COURT: That's not my problem.

19 MR. LINK: Maybe Carney gave it to them and 20 said, "Don't look."

21 THE COURT: That's not my problem. If 22 Mr. Epstein has a case against his attorneys, he 23 can deal with those claims to his satisfaction.
24 I'm not here to determine whether or not someone 25 did or did not commit malpractice.

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

58

1 MR. LINK: I understand that, Judge.

2 THE COURT: I'm here only to deal with this 3 issue that is before me, and that is, whether a 4 wholesale late disclosure of significant exhibits
5 that have been in the possession of Fowler White,
6 Epstein's attorneys, from day one and, thus, as a

7 matter of continuum in Epstein's possession, his 8 possession is constructive to the possession of the 9 attorneys that represented him, that string of 10 attorneys that have been representing him since 11 2010, and that if nobody got around to looking at 12 Fowler White's documents -- and how that could be 13 understood is beyond me, as not only a seasoned 14 attorney but also now a seasoned judge -- until you 15 and Miss Rockenbach took it upon yourselves and 16 your paralegal to do it is not my problem. And 17 that's all I'll say on the subject.

18 I have made my ruling. It is a several-19 pronged ruling. And for the reasons that I've 20 stated, that's the reason why I am not going to 21 engage in some type of a last-minute evaluation of 22 documents that could have been evaluated from 2010
23 all the way to March of 2018.

24 But nobody ever took it upon themselves to 25 even look at those documents in Fowler White's

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.

59

1 file. How that could be the case, who knows? But 2 I'm not finding fault with anything you or

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

3 Miss Rockenbach or Miss Campbell did. That's not 4 the issue. You've done your job.

5 MR. LINK: I understand. Your Honor, may I 6 have one minute to confer with appellate counsel to 7 make sure there's nothing I need to do to preserve 8 this?

9 THE COURT: Absolutely. Let's just take a 10 brief recess.

11 (Thereupon, a short recess was taken.)

12

13 THE COURT: All right. Thank you again.
14 Please have a seat. Welcome back.

15 MR. SCAROLA: Your Honor, I want to hopefully 16 tie up a few loose ends on the matter that has just 17 been ruled on.

18 Am I correct in understanding that the 19 defendant is prohibited from making any use of the 20 724 late-disclosed exhibits?

21 THE COURT: Yes.

22 MR. SCAROLA: Next, sir, we would request the 23 defendant be required to relinquish possession of 24 all copies of the privileged documents to the Court
25 under seal. They have expressed some concern

1       stating that we have asked them to destroy them.
2       We want them turned over to the Court under seal.
3       They should no longer have possession of those 4       until such time as somebody rules that they are 5       entitled to have possession.

6               And I want to make one brief comment about 7       that, if I could can.

8               Your Honor knows very well that Fowler White 9       is a very large law firm that keeps meticulous time 10      records with regard to the services that they 11      render. And the concept that it is impossible to 12      reconstruct through those time records what was 13      received, when it was received, when it was 14      reviewed, what happened with it, who was informed 15      of what was happening with it quite frankly is 16      absolutely inconceivable to me; that a law firm of 17      that size, keeping records the way it did, cannot 18      reconstruct what went on with regard to this 19      information.

20              THE COURT: And that's a good point. What I 21      was going to point out earlier and I failed to do

22 that, and I appreciate the reminder, is that I 23 would have expected certainly in deference to the 24 fact that Mr. Epstein was a client of Fowler White 25 that someone from Fowler White would have had the

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.

61

1 ability to weigh in somehow as to these critical
2 issues.

3 Perhaps I'm being a bit naive when I say that 4 having served Mr. Epstein in their capacity as 5 counsel, it's my respectful belief that they owed 6 an obligation to Mr. Epstein, if not this Court, to 7 explain how and why they had access and kept these 8 records in their possession in light of that court 9 order and in light of this ongoing litigation. And 10 as a matter of respect to Mr. Epstein and his 11 ongoing legal team, to have made some type of 12 affirmative steps to have dealt with this issue 13 head on because of the apparent implications of 14 same.

15 So I again want to make clear that I'm finding 16 absolutely no fault with Mr. Link, Miss Rockenbach, 17 Miss Campbell or anyone else from the Link and

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

18       Rockenbach firm in terms of what they did, albeit 19       in the manner in which they had to do it and the 20       timing, unfortunately, of the matter from their 21       perspective in having to do it, but that takes 22       nothing away from what the Court has already 23       remarked upon concerning the fact that now Fowler 24       White in the representation of Mr. Epstein had 25       these records from the inception is one of the

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

62

1       reasons for the Court's ruling.

2       MR. SCAROLA: Your Honor, may we include in 3       the order a direction that opposing counsel is 4       required to relinquish possession of all copies of 5       the privileged documents to the Court under seal?

6       THE COURT: Well, the only thing that 7       obviously has to be taken into consideration is the 8       appellate rights of Mr. Epstein and how they're 9       going to preserve those rights in light of the fact
10       that the Court has rejected the last minute request 11       for in-camera inspection for the reasons that I've 12       already stated at length on the record.

13 MR. SCAROLA: Which is why I've suggested that 14 they be relinquished to the Court under seal, your 15 Honor. They can be given an exhibit number. To 16 the extent that the appellate court finds it 17 reasonable and necessary to examine those 18 documents, the appellate court will have the 19 opportunity to do that.

20 THE COURT: So you're suggesting to file with 21 the Clerk of Court under seal the documents at 22 issue?

23 MR. SCAROLA: Yes, sir, that's correct.

24 THE COURT: That's better stated.

25 Do you have any objection?

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

63

1 MS. ROCKENBACH: No objection, your Honor.

2 THE COURT: So stipulated.

3 MR. SCAROLA: Your Honor will recall that 4 opposing counsel has also informed the Court on 5 multiple occasions that backup in the preparation
6 for this case was being provided by the Gunster law 7 firm, and we would like a certification from them
8 as well that no copies have been retained.

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

9 MR. LINK: They don't have any, Judge.

10 THE COURT: Okay. That's fine. If Mr. Link 11 and Miss Rockenbach are representing that to the 12 Court, I'm satisfied with that representation.

13 MR. SCAROLA: And I accept that representation 14 as well, your Honor, but what we would like and 15 believe we are entitled to is a list of all persons 16 to whom the privileged documents have been 17 disseminated. And I'm particularly concerned in 18 this regard; that the testimony of any witness 19 might be influenced by their improper exposure to 20 privileged documents. So we ask that a complete 21 list of all persons to whom those documents have 22 been disseminated or the contents of the documents 23 that been disseminated be provided to us.

24 And I know that Mr. Cassell has some concerns 25 in that regard as well that he would like to

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

64

1 address with the Court. So if he may have an 2 opportunity to speak to the Court in this regard --

3 THE COURT: That's fine.

4 Mr. Link, if you want to comment on that?

5 MR. LINK: Yeah. I think I can solve that 6 problem very easily, your Honor.

7 The documents were within my law firm, and my 8 client. That's it. They haven't been shown to any 9 third parties. There's not a third-party witness 10 for me to put on the stand. And you have ruled we 11 can't use them. We won't use them.

12 MR. SCAROLA: Does that include Mr. Epstein?

13 THE COURT: Does what include Mr. Epstein?

14 MR. SCAROLA: Has Mr. Epstein been provided 15 with copies of the documents or the contents of 16 these privileged documents?

17 MR. LINK: I just said my client. My law firm
18 and my client. And I can say legal counsel, 19 Mr. Goldberger. So that's it.

20 MR. SCAROLA: That may require some further 21 relief that we can address at another time.

22 And so that the record is clear, your Honor, 23 we believe that sanctionable conduct has occurred,
24 and we are reserving the right at a later time -- 25 but it's not something that needs to be addressed

1 now -- but we're reserving the right to address the 2 issue of appropriate sanctions at a later time.

3 THE COURT: Thank you.

4 Mr. Cassell?

5 MR. CASSELL: Thank you, your Honor. Paul
6 Cassell, and I'm here this afternoon, and I
7 understand it's getting late in the day, I'll be 8 very brief, representing three victims; LM, EW and 9 Jane Doe. Just one housekeeping matter.

10 We have filed a motion to intervene, which is 11 unopposed.

12 THE COURT: The only thing I need is an order.
13 Everything else was provided but the proposed 14 order. So if it's unopposed, then phrase it as 15 such and I'll be glad to execute it.

16 MR. CASSELL: Thank you, your Honor.

17 Just so the record is clear, on July 19, 2010, 18 seven and a half years ago, LM said these very 19 documents are privileged, and on February 23, 2011, 20 EW and Jane Doe through counsel said these 21 documents are privileged. So the Epstein entity 22 that is Mr. Epstein and his array of lawyers were 23 on notice at that time that every one of these 45

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

24 documents was privileged.

25 And then what happened on Friday night, March

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

66

1 2nd, was that Mr. Link put into the public court
2 file summaries of the e-mails, quoting from them 3 directly, and we believe that was improper. And 4 indeed, we've heard today Mr. Link represent to the 5 Court all we wanted was an in-camera review, but of 6 course they wanted something more. They wanted to 7 put those in the public court file because they 8 knew that the cat would be out of the bag, 9 publicity would ensue, and other damage to my 10 clients could occur. And so I'm here this 11 afternoon to raise what I think are time of the 12 essence concerns about the release of those 13 privileged materials by Mr. Epstein. When I use 14 the term "Mr. Epstein," I'll be referring to this 15 entity.

16 Let's be clear. There is no doubt from sworn 17 testimony in front of the Court that on January 10, 18 2018 agents of this law firm picked up a disk from

19 the Fowler White law firm, and the Fowler White law 20 firm, as you know from the ELMO, had been directed 21 some six or seven years earlier not to retain any 22 copies of these documents. So there should be no 23 dispute about the circumstances right now.

24 At that time Mr. Link's law firm, Mr. Epstein,
25 were in possession of documents that Fowler White

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

67

1 was in possession of that were in violation of a
2 court order. Mr. Scarola has used the term "stolen 3 documents" and I think that, frankly, describes 4 accurately the nature of the documents, although 5 who the thief was, of course, remains to be 6 determined.

7 So the question in front of you right now is 8 what to do about this. Well, we know one thing.
9 We know there's been absolutely no waiver of 10 attorney/client privilege. How do we know that?
11 Well, your Honor knows the Florida law very well.
12 To be a waiver of attorney/client privilege is 13 something that is disfavored. There has to be a 14 clear, intentional waiver of the privilege. And

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

15 how do we know there's not been a clear,
16 intentional waiver of the privilege? Just use 17 Mr. Link's word. Things are clear as mud. Well, 18 if something is clear as mud, there cannot be an 19 intentional waiver. So there's no waiver of 20 attorney/client privilege.

21 I know the hour is late.

22 THE COURT: You don't have to feel rushed. I 23 want to make sure that you're heard and that your 24 clients are heard.

25 MR. CASSELL: Thank you, your Honor. We

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

68

1 appreciate that because what we've heard shockingly
2 this afternoon is -- let me -- I know we need to be 3 careful with language -- let's just say an accused 4 abuser, Mr. Epstein, the man accused of abusing my 5 three clients, we are told has seen these very 6 privileged documents. We're told Mr. Goldberger 7 has seen them. We're told, of course, Mr. Link and 8 his law firm has seen them. And of course this 9 very large law firm, the Fowler White law firm, has 10       seen them as well. And so the question is what do 11       we do?

12               And we're mindful in the fact you're about to 13       embark on what's likely to be a very time-consuming 14       trial. So I would like to impose six remedies that 15       we would ask you to execute today; none of which, I 16       want to emphasize, will require consumption of the 17       Court's time other than signing the proposed order 18       that we will provide for you.

19               The first is -- Mr. Scarola has already asked 20       for this and I believe obtained this, but I want 21       the record to be clear. My clients are asking that 22       you preclude any use of the privileged exhibits 23       either directly, indirectly or derivatively during 24       the upcoming trial because if someone relies on 25       this information, for example, in asking a question

                  PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
                  561-471-2995

69

1       to Mr. Edwards or asking a question to any of the 2       witnesses that Mr. Edwards is presenting, that 3       could implicitly reveal privileged information.

4               THE COURT: We have all done this, so don't 5       feel like you're alone. Are you talking about Mr.

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

6 Epstein?

7 MR. CASSELL: I'm sorry. If Mr. Epstein's
8 attorneys do that, that's the concern.

9 So, for example, if they're formulating any 10 questions to Mr. Edwards, they shouldn't be able to 11 use any privileged information because we're 12 worried that that could implicitly disclose
13 privileged communications.

14 Secondly, we would like Epstein counsel -- and 15 that's a broad term that includes -- I've probably 16 lost track of the different law firms, but 17 Mr. Link's law firm, the Fowler White law firm, I
18 believe there are several others, Mr. Goldberger's 19 law firm, we want them all to canvass their 20 records, canvass their e-mails, canvass their 21 servers and tell us if they -- how did this happen?
22 How did this happen?

23 THE COURT: You're talking about how did the 24 Fowler White firm garner these records?

25 MR. CASSELL: Correct.

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

1 THE COURT: Well, I'm not sure that any of 2 their servers are going to shed light on that.

3 MR. CASSELL: Well, it may be, for example --

4 THE COURT: I don't want to go on a fishing
5 expedition, as you can appreciate. I don't want to 6 exacerbate the problem; meaning, I don't want to 7 unnecessarily delve into myriad e-mail systems to 8 gain knowledge that is likely residing at the 9 Fowler White firm in some form or fashion, whether 10 it be current or former employees or otherwise. So 11 I am not going to go to that extent at this 12 juncture without further proof or basic proof for 13 going in that direction.

14 MR. CASSELL: That would be our request. But 15 there would be a broad -- you phrased it fishing
16 expedition. We would phrase it a retrieval 17 expedition -- to retrieve what's happened here.
18 But at the minimum we would ask your Honor then to 19 direct Epstein attorneys who were previously before 20 this Court, Fowler White, to examine the 21 circumstances here.

22 You noted that you thought there might have 23 been an obligation for them to address the Court
24 head on. I'm here telling you that the victims

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

71

1 address the victims head on. How did this happen?

2 THE COURT: And understandable. I was not 3 confining the obligation of Fowler White to those 4 entities that I mentioned. It was those entities
5 that came to the Court's mind initially. I don't 6 want this record to suggest I wasn't taking into 7 account the concerns of the victims.

8 MR. CASSELL: Certainly, your Honor, I wasn't 9 suggesting -- and this, of course, is my first 10 opportunity -- you have always referred to building
11 a record -- this is my opportunity to build a 12 record as well. So we want to know how these 13 materials were obtained.

14 The third thing we want to know is who were 15 the materials distributed to? Mr. Scarola has made 16 that request on behalf of his clients. I'm making 17 that request on behalf of my clients.

18 We're told that Mr. Goldberger has seen it, 19 we're told Mr. Epstein has seen it. We want to 20 know who else has seen it. And this, frankly, may

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

21 require looking at e-mails, looking at servers and 22 that sort of thing.

23 I think the record should be clear that in a 24 routine case, you might say, "Well, that's going to 25 be too expensive." Your Honor is aware this is not

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

72

1 a routine case because I understand that two of the 2 finest and largest law firms here in Florida are 3 currently representing Mr. Epstein, so they 4 certainly have the resources to search -- to 5 accomplish the searches that would be involved to 6 see how these materials got anywhere.

7 The fourth thing is we want an order directing 8 Mr. Epstein not to reveal the contents of this 9 information to anyone. We are told that 10 Mr. Epstein has seen the information, so he should 11 be singled out specifically for an order.

12 Fifth -- I think this has already been 13 recovered. All copies of the documents are to be 14 turned over under seal to the Court.

15 Sixth, we want our temporary sealing order,

16 which we will provide later today, to be converted 17 into a permanent sealing order. Mr. Link filed in 18 the public court file, we believe highly 19 improperly, information that he was on notice was 20 privileged. And he said today he wanted an 21 in-camera review. Well, you do not get an 22 in-camera review when you put those very documents, 23 or at least summaries of those very documents, into 24 the public court file.

25 We want the Friday night filing, the notice of

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

73

1 redacted materials, to be placed under permanent 2 seal.

3 And then the last request is just a
4 housekeeping request. We're obviously scrambling
5 to sort out the implications of all this. I'm sure 6 I have missed some points that need to be made.

7 Due to the late filing of this document, due to the 8 public filing of the document improperly, we would 9 like leave to be able to file a supplemental 10 application for additional remedies after the trial
11 concludes and after we have received information

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

12 about how the documents were obtained and who they 13 went to.

14 And so those are the requests that I make on 15 behalf of my two clients.

16 THE COURT: All right.

17 Mr. Link?

18 MR. LINK: Yes, sir. Thank you.

19 THE COURT: Thank you.

20 MR. LINK: I'm not sure how I can be more 21 clear about where we got the documents from. We 22 got them from Fowler White, your Honor. I don't 23 think that's a mystery anymore.

24 I've represented to the Court who I have 25 shared the papers with. The Court has ruled that

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995.

74

1 we're going to take the disks that we have and put 2 it under seal. We'll destroy all the other copies.
3 That's what Mr. Scarola asked for and that's what 4 we said we would do.

5 As to the filing, I never said all I wanted 6 was an in-camera inspection. What I said was 7 Mr. Scarola said he would like one and I said

8 great, let's have one.

9 Most important is this: The documents that we 10 filed -- and there was some miscommunication with 11 Mr. Cassell -- I want to make sure the record is 12 clear -- we did two things: We filed redacted
13 documents. We redacted all of the names of EW, LM
14 and Jane Doe, as this Court has instructed. So 15 their initials were wiped out. Mr. Cassell called 16 me and said, "I'm looking at a document and I see 17 their initials." What he was looking at is we 18 served the counsel and hand delivered to the 19 Court -- did not put it in the public file -- the 20 unredacted documents so we would all know what was 21 in there.

22 THE COURT: By the court, you mean --

23 MR. LINK: To you. To the judge.

24 THE COURT: -- to myself.

25 MR. LINK: Yes, sir.

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

75

1 THE COURT: Not as far as the court file is 2 concerned.

3 MR. LINK: The court file only contains the 4 redacted version. We have double checked that. I
5 asked Mr. Cassell to tell me if I missed a
6 redaction. Could it happen? Yes, it could happen.
7 We haven't found one. If there was one that wasn't 8 redacted, we'd be glad to redact it. But the only 9 thing that was filed in the clerk file was the 10 redacted version.

11 Thank you, Judge.

12 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

13 Much of which -- or much of the relief that 14 has been requested has essentially been taken care 15 of I believe through the Court's prior order; that 16 is, that the one disk containing the documents that 17 are being sought to be introduced at trial to take 18 to record will be permitted to be filed under seal.
19 The sanitized redacted versions of those records 20 I'm also ordering to be sealed in an abundance of 21 caution just in case there may be some error, not 22 intentional, on the part of counsel who filed those 23 records.

24 Mr. Epstein will be barred from referring to 25 any of those records as it relates to the documents

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

76

1 that were gathered from Fowler White or from any 2 other source that would have included those records
3 that were the subject of Judge Ray's order. So 4 it's to preclude anything coming in through the 5 back door which wouldn't be allowed through the 6 front.

7 Mr. Link, did you want to comment on this?

8 MR. LINK: Yes. I wanted to remind the Court 9 we have over a hundred exhibits that were listed on 10 that disk that are already in the court file.
11 We've used them in depositions. So I'm 12 wondering -- those aren't excluded.

13 THE COURT: Right. I'm not talking about 14 those. I'm talking about the ones that have been 15 derived from Fowler White and that have been sought 16 to be introduced as part of the 748 or 724, or 17 whatever this number is, or the 45 that have been 18 claimed as privileged and have not been ruled upon 19 and will not be ruled upon prior to trial because 20 of the reasons that I have explained in detail 21 earlier.

22 MR. LINK: Thank you, Judge.

23 THE COURT: Mr. Cassell, did I leave out
24 anything else?

25 MR. CASSELL: Yes. We want to know how the

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

77

1 Epstein entities came into possession of the 2 documents, and then we want to know where they 3 went.

4 THE COURT: Because of the court ruling, I
5 don't find that to be a front burner issue at this 6 time. Please don't confuse anyone here. The 7 Court's reference to front burner as opposed to 8 being an issue of importance. Front burner simply 9 means that in preparation for a trial that is 10 actually a mere two to three business days away, if 11 you count tomorrow, which I don't really count as a 12 court business day because of my obligations to the 13 Bench Bar Conference, I won't have the opportunity 14 to really delve into that prior to trial.

15 And as Mr. Scarola pointed out, I believe,
16 earlier, that can be done at another time. So I am 17 certainly not going to forget that it needs to be

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

18 done. But it will be ordered that it be done post 19 trial.

20 Any other remedies that are sought as you go 21 along -- I understand the relative late nature of 22 these revelations; hence, you are not precluded
23 from filing a supplemental motion.

24 I also note that you have requested attorney's 25 fees and costs related to this endeavor, and I'm

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

78

1 reserving on that as well.

2 MR. CASSELL: But related to that is the 3 distribution. The cat is now wandering out of the 4 bag, so time is of the essence.

5 THE COURT: Right. And again, I think that in 6 an abundance of caution, and I understand your 7 concerns, but what the attorneys here recognize -- 8 and Mr. Epstein is also under this order -- is that 9 no further dissemination is going to be made. I 10 think that goes without saying as far as the 11 attorneys are concerned. I've known each of them 12 seated at counsel table for many years, as I have

13 known Mr. Scarola and Miss Terry, Mr. Burlington,
14 and I think they recognize that when this Court 15 makes a statement, that it is abundantly clear that 16 it will be enforced to the letter. I have no doubt 17 in my mind that they will all be respectful of the 18 court order of non-dissemination of any of those 19 documents hence forth.

20 And Mr. Link has already represented to the 21 Court that other than Mr. Epstein and his 22 co-counsel, that there have been no eyes laid upon 23 these documents. Hence, I'm accepting that 24 representation, as Mr. Scarola has accepted those 25 representations during the hearing as well.

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

79

1 MR. CASSELL: We haven't heard, of course,
2 from Fowler White. Will the Court direct them to 3 make similar representations?

4 THE COURT: I believe that I have sufficient 5 authority to do that under these relatively 6 peculiar circumstances. My jurisdiction, though, 7 is somewhat limited because they have withdrawn
8 from the case.

9           As a general blanket order I would simply say
10       that all attorneys who have or are representing Mr.
11       Epstein shall be subject to this order of 12       confidentiality, of sealing and of non-13       dissemination of any such information that is 14       contemplated in any of the documents that are part 15       of the umbrella order of Judge Ray. And that would 16       include all of the exhibits that we spoke about 17       today and that have been filed as a matter of 18       record.

19           MR. CASSELL: Could they also be directed to 20       make a representation as to who they have 21       distributed the documents to?

22           THE COURT: Mr. Link has already -- are you 23       talking about Fowler White?

24           MR. CASSELL: Fowler White.

25           THE COURT: I don't think that I have that

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

80

1       ability.

2           MR. CASSELL: Could I be heard on that issue
3       then? I believe that you do have -- all right.

4 We'll deal with that later then, your Honor.

5 MR. LINK: Can I make a suggestion, your 6 Honor, that might be helpful?

7 THE COURT: Sure.

8 MR. LINK: We now have, I think, 34 or 36
9 boxes they delivered; I believe all the boxes they 10 have. The disk, the original disk, we now have it.
11 I don't know for sure, but I doubt that there's 12 another disk that they made and kept. If the Court 13 will instruct as part of this order that we 14 maintain the boxes, because Fowler White wanted 15 them back, then we will take possession of the 16 boxes.

17 THE COURT: If you are telling me that you 18 have authority from Mr. Epstein to retain those 19 boxes and Mr. Epstein is essentially giving you 20 carte blanche, you and Miss Rockenbach and 21 Mr. Goldberger jointly, the authority to make any 22 decisions necessary to protect his interests, that 23 motion would be granted.

24 MR. LINK: I'm standing here with this puzzled
25 look because I'm not sure what that means, frankly.

1 All I was trying to do is say I will preserve the 2 documents, the original files, because I don't 3 think there's another set of files somewhere.
4 Fowler White had asked me to return them once we 5 went through them, and if the Court can instruct me 6 to hold the boxes, then I will do that.

7 THE COURT: I don't have a problem with making 8 that instruction, so I'll leave it at that. You're 9 speaking on behalf of your client, Mr. Epstein, as 10 well as your own law firm, and Mr. Goldberger, I 11 take it, as well, so I have no problem making -- in 12 entering this order since you're current counsel 13 for Mr. Epstein.

14 MR. LINK: Thank you, Judge. I think that 15 will make custody easier.

16 MR. SCAROLA: Your Honor, there are two 17 additional matters that I would hope can be 18 disposed of in advance of the start of trial.

19 THE COURT: Sure.

20 MR. SCAROLA: One is Mr. Epstein's motion to 21 strike Dr. Jansen, and the second is issues with 22 regard to adverse inference. I think that both of 23 those matters have been fully briefed.

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

24 Mr. Burlington is here to present argument in 25 response to the motion regarding Dr. Jansen.

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

82

1 I suggest -- your Honor has told us that we're 2 finishing at 4:30 today -- that we allot 15
3 minutes, seven and a half minutes per side, to each 4 of those matters.

5 THE COURT: All right. Off the record.

6 (Discussion held off the record.)

7 MR. LINK: Your Honor, we have a motion to 8 strike the 79 exhibits that they disclosed late 9 after the cutoff. I think if we're going to do a 10 goose and a gander, the Court should rule those 11 exhibits are stricken.

12 THE COURT: Well, I have to -- I want to 13 review that motion again since my concentration has 14 been on the sequencing that I mentioned before.
15 I'll be glad to deal with it prior to trial.

16 MR. LINK: I'm comfortable with your Honor 17 ruling on the papers if Mr. Scarola is.

18 THE COURT: Well, I'd rather, since it's

19 something of the magnitude of trial exhibits and 79
20 in number, I'd rather have argument on the subject, 21 to be perfectly frank with you. I appreciate your 22 willingness to entrust the Court with that 23 endeavor, but I think it's better to have you heard 24 on the record.

25 All right. Mr. Burlington, which one did you

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

83

1 want to tackle first?

2 MR. BURLINGTON: Your Honor, it's his motion.

3 MR. SCAROLA: The motion to strike Dr. Jansen.

4 THE COURT: All right.

5 MR. BURLINGTON: Unless you want me to argue
6 both sides, your Honor.

7 THE COURT: What's the other motion?

8 MR. SCAROLA: Adverse interest, your Honor,
9 from the assertion of the Fifth Amendment.

10 MR. LINK: Which one are we on?

11 MS. TERRY: Jansen.

12 MR. LINK: Jansen. Okay.

13 Good afternoon, your Honor. See if I can 14 start over today.

15 THE COURT: You have done fine.

16 MR. LINK: I don't remember winning one yet, 17 so maybe this one. I have hopes.

18 Your Honor, this is our motion to strike 19 Dr. Jansen. And I know the Court has read the 20 paper, so I'm going to be very brief about this.

21 We have struggled since coming before this 22 Court in December with what this case is, because I 23 keep saying to the Court that Mr. Edwards wants to 24 try a defamation action, he wants to clear his 25 name, he wants defamation-type damages, and the

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

84

1 Court keeps rebuking me properly and saying, no,
2 this is a malicious prosecution action. We're not 3 going to try a defamation action.

4 Their expert that they want to put on the 5 stand for damages has no opinion, your Honor, as to 6 damages. Not one. He can't talk about any damage
7 suffered by Mr. Edwards, if any. His sole opinion 8 is that he was given defamatory statements by 9 counsel, defamatory statements, and told to do a

10 search to see how many times the defamatory
11 statements hit a web page or how many people 12 touched the web page with the defamatory statement 13 on it.

14 So, for example, there's a newspaper article
15 that says Rothstein and Edwards, and that magazine 16 or that newspaper has 3,000 people that look at the 17 newspaper. He says there are 3,000 hits. He can't 18 tell you if one of the 3,000 people read the 19 article, what they thought about the article, did 20 it make any difference, did they change their view 21 of Mr. Edwards, did they not do business with him, 22 did they fire him?

23 He says he has no economic damages, so how 24 does it help a jury to hear about nine million web
25 hits when you can't point to a single person -- I

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

85

1 said, "Tell me one person, one person, Dr. Jansen, 2 that you know read one of these articles." He 3 said, "I can't. I have no idea."

4 The other thing that was important is he said,
5 "I just use an average of data. I can't tell you

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

6 exactly because they accumulated over months." He 7 can't even tell us how many times this article was 8 actually touched. All he can tell you is if I go 9 to the Palm Beach Shiny Sheet website, on an 10 average month 3,000 people look at it. So how can 11 that help the jury from a damages expert determine 12 whether the filing of this malicious prosecution 13 action caused Mr. Edwards any damage?

14 Thank you, Judge.

15 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

16 Mr. Burlington?

17 MR. BURLINGTON: I'm Phil Burlington, here on 18 behalf of Brad Edwards.

19 This determination comes down to four 20 questions. First, is the expert qualified? That's 21 not being challenged.

22 The suggestion that he cannot give opinions on 23 damages ignores the nature of the damages for which 24 case law is clear, which includes reputational 25 damages, shame and humiliation. They have

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

1 acknowledged shame and humiliation as an element of 2 damage. We've cited on page 6 of our response
3 five Florida cases. Two of them, Florida Supreme 4 Court cases, make it very clear reputational
5 damages are a valid element of a malicious
6 prosecution case.

7 So how do you monetize -- how does the jury 8 monetize the damage that has been suffered by my 9 client? We've cited cases, and there are cases we 10 rely on from outside the jurisdiction, but it's 11 clear from the many Florida cases we cite this all 12 arises from the common law, and malicious 13 prosecution is described many times as an ancient 14 cause of action, so it's all developed by the 15 common law. So reliance on foreign jurisdictions 16 is not unusual, especially when it's consistent 17 with Florida law.

18 But the clearest discussion is in a case
19 called Browning, which says that in reputational 20 damages, which are particularly hard to prove, and 21 there's no case that I've ever read where in a 22 malicious prosecution case a plaintiff was put to 23 the burden of bringing in an individual who said, 24 "I didn't send my case to this lawyer because I

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

87

1 would require, of course, months of trial to pull
2 people in. But that's not our burden.

3 THE COURT: Right. And we're not looking at a
4 defamation case from the standpoint of publication, 5 where publication is really part of it. So that's 6 not what is being sought here in terms of the 7 expert testimony, as I understand it.

8 MR. BURLINGTON: Well, we're seeking to prove 9 the dissemination, as we would in a defamation
10 case.

11 THE COURT: Well, dissemination and recognized 12 or acknowledged publications are two different 13 things is what I'm trying to say. I'm essentially 14 agreeing with you, I think, in the sense that 15 there's no need to prove publication.

16 When I say "publication," I'm talking about 17 the consumption of that information by another 18 party and that party's -- and the effect on that 19 listener, or the effect on the person who agreed 20 with that material. You're speaking only to the 21 issue of dissemination.

22 MR. BURLINGTON: The Browning case says that 23 the two primary factors in determining reputational
24 damages are the gravity of the false allegations -- 25 and here we have a young, talented trial lawyer who

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

88

1 is being accused not only of heinous crimes, but 2 heinous crimes involving undermining the judicial 3 system. And then the second factor noted in 4 Browning, and it's cited in other cases, is the 5 degree of exposure of the false allegations.

6 And I've cited multiple cases in my brief that 7 say that when courts have evaluated the 8 excessiveness of a malicious prosecution award, one 9 of the critical considerations is the degree of 10 exposure of the false allegations. And this is how 11 we are doing it in the Internet age.

12 If we were 30, 40 years ago and this was done 13 and let's say it was only exposed in this area of 14 the country, Palm Beach County, Broward, Miami, we 15 would come in with the newspaper's circulation to 16 give the jury some idea of the exposure. That 17 doesn't really have much probative value in the 18 Internet age.

19 And Dr. Jansen is undisputedly qualified, 20 probably more than anybody, to do this, and he 21 explained how conservative his analysis was. And 22 he's not going to tell the jury that the nine 23 million six hundred hits means that nine million 24 six hundred thousand people read this story and now 25 believed that Brad Edwards is a criminal, and so

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

89

1 forth and so on.

2 And one of the factors here is a very well-3 recognized principle of the Bigelow case, which is 4 a U.S. Supreme Court case, that says that one of 5 the fundamental principles of justice is that if a 6 defendant engages in wrongful conduct that creates 7 uncertainty as to damages, that falls on them. You 8 can't put the plaintiff to what is an essentially 9 impossible burden, assuming we prove our cause of 10 action. And that, of course, is an issue that this 11 trial will be all about.

12 But they're trying to say really you can never 13 prove reputational damages without bringing in Joe 14 Six Pack off the street and inquiring of him how 15 much of a grudge he's holding against Brad Edwards 16 because of false allegations. That is simply not 17 the standard.

18 Is it helpful to the jury? Well, the jury is 19 not going to understand the complexity of 20 dissemination of information on the Internet, and 21 this witness is specifically qualified to do that.

22 So when we go through the analysis is he 23 qualified, is the issue relevant, is it helpful to 24 the jury, we satisfy those three.

25 Then we come to reasons to exclude. And the

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

90

1 only reason I saw raised in their motion for 2 excluding it was vague references to confusion.
3 And I don't see how there could be confusion, given 4 the clear parameters of what Dr. Jansen testified 5 to were his directions, his methodology. There was 6 terminology that he has to explain to the jury, but 7 all experts do that in complex situations. The 8 jury here would not be capable of making an 9 analysis of the degree of dissemination on the 10 Internet as a matter of their common sense.

11 THE COURT: I didn't read the motion as 12 suggesting a prior Daubert analysis being required.

13 MR. BURLINGTON: I'm sorry?

14 THE COURT: I didn't read the motion filed by 15 Mr. Link to talk about his seeking a Frye or 16 Daubert analysis.

17 MR. BURLINGTON: Correct. That's my reading
18 as well, your Honor.

19 Now, there was a little preamble, as there has 20 been on many motions here, about how this is all 21 about a defamation action, and we've cited in our 22 response the term "defamation" is a general term in 23 the English language, and we've cited Miriam 24 Webster, which is about as white bread as you can 25 get on a definition.

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

91

1 The fact that that term is used not only in 2 describing certain parts of the task that was

3 assigned to Dr. Jansen or in our argument regarding 4 the nature of the damages, it's because that term 5 properly applies to false statements of fact that 6 accuse a person of criminal conduct, of being 7 insane, being untrustworthy and so forth. It is 8 not in any way a suggestion that we are bringing a 9 defamation action.

10 The reputational damages are clearly 11 recognized by the Florida Supreme Court. They have 12 been recognized as one of those intangible damages
13 for which a jury has to be given broad discretion.
14 On the other hand, they have to be given 15 parameters. And in this context, the two primary 16 ones as to reputational damages are the gravity of 17 the false allegations and the degree of exposure.
18 And that is exactly what this expert is qualified 19 to testify about. And there's been no suggestion 20 as to what confusion there would be. And so, 21 therefore, we believe we have satisfied the 22 standard, and it's your discretion regarding the 23 admission of his testimony.

24 And to strike a witness entirely is the most 25 extreme remedy that could be sought in this

1 context, and we submit it is not appropriate and 2 the motion should be denied.

3 THE COURT: All right, thank you.

4 Mr. Link, you have a few minutes to rebut.

5 MR. LINK: Very briefly, Judge.

6 I think a little bit of the confusion on the 7 damages is there's really two standards. The 8 standard for damages in a malicious prosecution 9 based on lack of probable cause in a criminal 10 action has per se damages. They're assumed,
11 because if somebody makes an allegations that you 12 are a criminal in the criminal court and they have 13 you arrested, then your reputation and your 14 character are immediately impugned.

15 This is civil. In civil it requires damages
16 proximately caused. And it's not a Frye analysis, 17 it's not a Daubert analysis, it's a basic does this 18 help the jury and is it a 403 issue, which is if I
19 get on the stand and I say there were nine million 20 hits when in fact all he did was search for 21 defamatory terms given to him by counsel without

22 taking into consideration was it Mr. Edwards who 23 spoke to the press, did he do a press release, when 24 did these -- when were the -- when did the 25 dissemination take place, did anybody read them,

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

93

1 did it make any difference?

2 One of the things Mr. Edwards has told us is 3 he has no economic damages. His law firm has made 4 substantially more money, or himself personally, 5 since Mr. Epstein sued him than from before.

6 So to say to the jury nine million hits sounds
7 like nine million people are reading this. I
8 believe that prejudice outweighs any, any value it 9 might have, any relevance in this action, because 10 he needs to show damages proximately caused and not 11 just put someone on the stand to talk about hits.

12 Thank you, Judge.

13 THE COURT: Okay. I was writing as we were 14 speaking and certainly was anticipating
15 Mr. Burlington to state the well-known legal action 16 that a request to strike a witness is a drastic and 17 extreme measure reserved only in rare

18           circumstances, especially where here we're dealing 19           with an expert which is otherwise qualified to 20           testify to what he's going to testify. And there 21           being no Daubert or Frye analysis necessary, the 22           Court would deny the motion.

23           I would point out that many of the issues that 24           were raised by Mr. Link both in his written motion 25           and orally certainly can be effectively dealt with

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

94

1           on cross-examination. But the core aspect of the 2           Court's ruling today is that reputational damages 3           and damages for humiliation are difficult to 4           demonstrate to a jury, and the manner in which the 5           plaintiff chooses to go about presenting that 6           testimony, in this Court's view, is reasonable in 7           part to Dr. Jansen's proposed testimony. So again, 8           that motion is respectfully denied.

9           The next issue.

10          MR. LINK: Judge, I think that's 0 for 5.

11          THE COURT: I don't keep score. Never have 12          and never will. I know you say it in gest, and I

13        allowed it the last time without a mention, but 14        repeating it is inappropriate.

15                MR. LINK: Judge, I'm sorry. It was not meant 16        to be inappropriate.

17                MR. SCAROLA: Your Honor, the next issue
18        before the Court relates to the plaintiff's 19        entitlement to an adverse inference instruction 20        arising out of each of those circumstances where 21        Jeffrey Epstein has asserted his Fifth Amendment 22        right to remain silent. The primary objection to 23        the entitlement to an instruction really related to 24        the content of the instruction.

25                And I have handed your Honor the adverse

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

95

1        inference instruction based on Fifth Amendment
2        assertions that we are requesting of the Court,
3        which I suggest to your Honor is in direct 4        conformity with the United States Supreme Court's 5        opinion in Baxter versus Palmigiano and also 6        conforms with the clarification in the case of 7        Coquina Investments versus Rothstein.
8        Interestingly, a matter related to the Ponzi

9 scheme.

10 And those two cases together stand for the 11 basic principle that you may not base civil 12 liability solely upon the assertion of a Fifth 13 Amendment privilege. But if a defendant confronted 14 with evidence against him in the context of a civil 15 case refuses to answer questions that are relevant 16 and material to that civil case, then drawing an 17 adverse inference based upon Fifth Amendment
18 assertion is not required, but is permitted.
19 That's exactly what this instruction says.

20 Your Honor is well aware of the broad array of 21 questions to which Mr. Epstein has refused to 22 provide answers, and it is of particular 23 significance that those refusals occurred in the 24 context of efforts to obtain discovery on the claim 25 that Mr. Epstein himself asserted.

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

96

1 He filed a lawsuit intending not to provide 2 any discovery with respect to the claims that he 3 made and, carrying through on that intention,

4 refusing to provide any discovery on those claims 5 that he made. Under those circumstances, an 6 adverse inference instruction is particularly 7 appropriate.

8 I might also point out to the Court that there 9 is a basic principle of law relating to admission
10 by silence. Separate and apart from Fifth 11 Amendment concerns, if someone is confronted with 12 accusations under circumstances where they have in 13 this case not only a right but an obligation to 14 speak up in response to those accusations and they 15 fail to say anything, that accounts to an admission 16 by silence.

17 So based upon those two very fundamental 18 principles, the U.S. Supreme Court recognition, the 19 Fifth Amendment protections do not apply in the 20 context of civil litigation based upon the basic 21 principle of admissions against silence, admission 22 of a party opponent by silence.

23 We ask the Court approve this proposed 24 instruction and permit us to comment upon 25 Mr. Epstein's assertion of the Fifth Amendment

1 privilege in the context of this civil litigation 2 in each context in which those assertions were 3 made.

4 So it relates to his assertion of the Fifth 5 Amendment privilege with regard to the elements of 6 the claim that he brought against Bradley Edwards,
7 it relates to his assertion of Fifth Amendment 8 privilege with regard to all questions relating to 9 his economic circumstances, it relates to his 10 assertion of the Fifth Amendment privilege in every 11 context in which he has asserted that privilege.

12 Thank you, sir.

13 THE COURT: Thank you.

14 Mr. Scarola, the reference to Florida standard 15 jury instruction 301.11, am I going to find this 16 there?

17 MR. SCAROLA: What you're going to find there, 18 your Honor, is a spoliation instruction. And what 19 we've done is we have adopted the spoliation 20 instruction, which is the closest standard in 21 jury -- closest standard jury instruction to these 22 circumstances. That is not an adverse inference 23 instruction based upon Fifth Amendment. No such 24 standard jury instruction exists.

25 THE COURT: Well, I didn't think so. And

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

98

1 thank you for that clarification.

2 I'm surprised that there really aren't more 3 cases that deal with this instruction in a civil 4 context. And no Florida cases that you're aware 5 of?

6 MR. SCAROLA: Coquina is a Florida case, your 7 Honor.

8 THE COURT: Well, it's a Federal District
9 Court case, not a Florida appellate court case, 10 which would be binding on this Court.

11 All right. Counsel for Mr. Epstein?

12 MR. GOLDBERGER: Now I get to stand.

13 Good afternoon. Jack Goldberger on behalf of 14 Mr. Epstein.

15 Your Honor, as a general statement of the law, 16 Mr. Scarola is correct.

17 THE COURT: Let me tell you where I have some 18 issues, Mr. Goldberger, with this. And Mr. Scarola

19 can speak to it as well, now that I understand its 20 origination.

21 The first sentence I don't really have a 22 problem with. The second sentence is where I have 23 a problem. It says, quote, However, the protection 24 that applies in a criminal proceeding does not 25 apply in a civil lawsuit when a person, based upon

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

99

1 the Fifth Amendment, refuses to answer questions 2 when evidence is offered against him which is 3 relevant to the case, end quote. I don't think 4 that's an accurate statement of the protection 5 mechanism.

6 MR. GOLDBERGER: I bracketed that myself, your 7 Honor, in the instructions Mr. Scarola gave me.
8 And my concern may be a little different than the 9 Court.

10 Whether that's accurate or not, I don't want 11 this jury to be thinking well, the right against 12 self-incrimination applies in a criminal case and,
13 therefore, he's guilty of everything that they're 14 trying to get an adverse inference on. There

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

15 simply is not a connect there. I don't know why we 16 need to mention anything about a criminal case in 17 this jury instruction other than Mr. Epstein under 18 the United States Constitution cannot be compelled 19 to provide evidence against himself in a criminal 20 proceeding, period.

21 And then, you know, and the guilt of a crime
22 may not be inferred from the exercise of the Fifth 23 Amendment right to remain silent, that's confusing, 24 your Honor, and it's just going to inject criminal 25 issues into this civil trial, and I think it's just

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

100

1 not necessary to the instruction that Mr. Scarola
2 is seeking that this Court give to this jury.

3 And then the second sentence, your Honor,
4 address, However, the protection that applies in a
5 criminal proceeding does not apply in a civil 6 lawsuit when a person, based on the Fifth 7 Amendment, refuses to answer questions. And I know
8 where the Court is heading because that requires a 9 balancing test at this point.

10 Judge Crow, by the way, your Honor, back in 11 November of 2013 addressed this very issue in an 12 order that he entered. And I'll quote from it.
13 This is Order on Counter-plaintiff Bradley Edwards'
14 Motion to Determine Status of Punitive Damage
15 Discovery and Applicability of Adverse Inference.
16 And in that order, your Honor, your predecessor
17 judge, Judge Crow, stated, "The counter-plaintiff, 18 Bradley Edwards" -- I'm sorry -- "The 19 counter-plaintiff Edwards' request for jury 20 instructions adverse inference instruction is 21 deferred until the time of trial. And at the time 22 of trial, upon specific analysis of the specific 23 questions and answers, including those propounded 24 in discovery, the Court will determine whether an 25 adverse inference instruction will or will not be

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.

561-471-2995

101.

1 given."

2 So I think what Judge Crow meant in 2013 is 3 that you can't determine what the instruction is 4 going to be until such time as you hear the 5 question, and then you must first do a 403

6 analysis.

7 Well, first you must determine whether it's 8 relevant, then you have to do a 403 analysis, then 9 you have to decide whether under that 403 analysis 10 and respecting the sanctity of an invocation of the 11 Fifth Amendment privilege, whether an adverse 12 inference instruction is appropriate.

13 So for Mr. Scarola to simply ask you at this 14 point to have a blanket instruction to give to this 15 jury every time -- based on every time Mr. Epstein 16 invokes his Fifth Amendment privilege I do not 17 believe is a correct statement of the law. And I
18 would ask the Court to follow Judge Crow's order, 19 where he said I'm going to do it on a 20 question-by-question basis.

21 THE COURT: Well, a couple things. One is,
22 again, presuming, without knowing, what was going 23 through Judge Crow's mind at the time, but I would 24 think that the likely contemplation was that by the 25 time this case got to trial, whether it was in

1       2014, '15 and now '18, Mr. Epstein's criminal 2       issues would have been behind him and that there
3       was not at that particular juncture a need to rule 4       on something that was probably potentially, at 5       best, speculative. However, the time is now, so to 6       speak, because we've gone through in painstaking
7       detail most of those questions that the Court 8       deemed relevant and that Mr. Epstein invoked his 9       Fifth Amendment privilege and, therefore, the Court 10      would find that an adverse instruction would be 11      appropriate.

12             The language that I find fault with, 13      particularly in the second sentence, will have to 14      be ironed out and dealt with in a way that's going 15      to be palatable to the Court.

16             You certainly have the right, and it is a 17      matter of law in the civil context, that if you 18      seek to have an instruction provided to the jury on 19      this issue, it must be filed to preserve error.

20             Now, of course, if it was -- if it's deemed to 21      be erroneous to give an instruction at all, then 22      that requirement would be obviated. However, if 23      you are seeking an order with the Court's stated 24      intent that one will be given -- because as far as

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

103

1 my rulings relative to the Fifth Amendment issue
2 that I've already reviewed -- I'll be glad to 3 review a proposed instruction that you and your 4 team prepared.

5 So at this time -- again, I'm going to give
6 the instruction. An instruction. The instruction
7 is still up in the air in terms of the wording.

8 I'm comfortable with actually the first
9 sentence, I'm comfortable with the second 10 paragraph. It's the second sentence in the first 11 paragraph that will need to be changed.

12 MR. SCAROLA: May I suggest a language change, 13 your Honor, because I think I understand -- 14 although your Honor has not articulated the 15 concern, I think in rereading that second sentence, 16 I understand how it could be of concern. The Fifth 17 Amendment --

18 THE COURT: The concern potentially is the 19 blanket statement that protection that applies in a 20 criminal proceeding does not apply in a civil

21 lawsuit.

22 MR. SCAROLA: Yes, sir. I understand that.

23 What I suggest for consideration by the Court and 24 opposing counsel, instead of the instruction

25 reading, "However, the protection that applies in a

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.

1 criminal proceeding does not apply," it should

2 read, "However, the prohibition against drawing an

3 adverse inference that applies in a criminal

4 proceeding does not apply in a civil lawsuit,"

5 et cetera. That's the part that does not apply.

6 You still have your Fifth Amendment

7 protection; however, you don't have protection

8 against an adverse inference. That's what I

9 intended to say. It's not said as clearly as it

10 should be, so I suggest that the language read,

11 "However, the prohibition against drawing an

12 adverse inference that applies in a criminal

13 proceeding does not apply in a civil lawsuit,"

14 et cetera.

15 MR. GOLDBERGER: Your Honor, I accept what Mr.

16 Scarola is trying to clarify, but I also accept 17 your invitation to come up with our own instruction 18 at this point.

19 MR. SCAROLA: I just want to be sure our 20 proposal is on the table. And that's what it is.

21 THE COURT: However, the prohibition against 22 drawing an adverse inference -- so we'll eliminate 23 the word "protection" and substitute "prohibition 24 against drawing an adverse inference."

25 MR. SCAROLA: Yes, sir, which I believe is an

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

105

1 absolutely exact statement of the law.

2 THE COURT: All right. I certainly can live
3 with that more so than I could letting that 4 sentence stand as it was.

5 But again, your invitation remains. I'll be 6 glad to take into consideration any proposed 7 instruction that you provide me, Mr. Goldberger, 8 and your team.

9 But again, I'm ruling that adverse instruction 10 is abundantly necessary, without question. And,
11 therefore, one will be given.

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript -- Afternoon Session

12 But again, I will invite you to prepare one 13 for the Court's consideration.

14 MR. GOLDBERGER: Thanks, Judge. That's 15 obviously subject to relevancy. Obviously.

16 THE COURT: I'll put on the record for you so 17 that there's no equivocation, I understand that 18 your blanket objection is to giving an adverse 19 instruction at all. That is recognized, and it's 20 overruled.

21 However, as I said, as a substitute, my 22 understanding of the law to be is it will be 23 necessary now that the Court has ruled, unless you 24 simply want to stand on your blanket objection, 25 that an alternative instruction must be given for

3 So at this time -- again, I'm going to give
4 the instruction. An instruction. The instruction
5 is still up in the air in terms of the wording.

6 I'm comfortable with actually the first

12 MR. SCAROLA: Your Honor, we thank you very 13 much for your generous allotment of time today.
14 Look forward to seeing you on Tuesday.

15 THE COURT: It's my pleasure.

16 Again, you all have done a superb job in both 17 your written and oral presentations. I appreciate 18 the excellent argument. As I've mentioned in the 19 past, if I had the pleasure of dealing with 20 attorneys of all of your caliber each and every 21 day, I wouldn't have the headaches that I do

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session
22 physically and figuratively.

23 MR. SCAROLA: Your Honor, for planning
24 purposes, are we going to be conducting an initial 25 screening on Tuesday, having jurors fill out the 1 questionnaire and then returning for voir dire on 2 Wednesday? The initial screening I would think 3 would include hardship challenges and also 4 questions with regard to anyone's familiarity with 5 the underlying circumstances of this case.

6 THE COURT: That's something that we're going 7 to have to discuss, and I guess the best time to do
8 it is now. Take a little bit more time.

9 Madam court reporter, are you okay with a few 10 more minutes?

11 THE REPORTER: Sure.

12 THE COURT: My thinking is that likely it will 13 be necessary to preliminarily individually question
14 the venire panels. I'm going to have a hundred.

15 MR. SCAROLA: Yes, sir.

16 THE COURT: I know that will be time
17 consuming, but based upon the Dippolito case, and 18 this having some parallels as far as the publicity 19 aspects are concerned and the nature of the 20 allegations and admissions that we're dealing with 21 here, that it's incumbent upon the Court to 22 individually question each of the initial venire

23 members as to their knowledge of the individuals 24 involved in this case. Those are my thoughts 25 preliminarily.

1 MR. SCAROLA: May I make a suggestion?

2 THE COURT: Sure. Whoever is going to 3 primarily conduct voir dire, why don't you come up
4 to the podium so I can hear from you and you don't 5 have to jump up and down.

6 MR. SCAROLA: We've proposed a juror
7 questionnaire and I think that we're probably close 8 in terms of the content of that juror
9 questionnaire.

10 THE COURT: I haven't seen it.

11 MR. SCAROLA: If we're not there already, 12 we're close in terms of the contents of that

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session
questionnaire.

THE COURT: I haven't seen it yet, so that's a bit of a disadvantage for me because this is something that goes unmentioned, but certainly it is my philosophy in most of the cases that I handle and all of the cases when I'm dealing with exceptionally competent lawyers, once voir dire is over, there's little that the jury hears from me. You are the ones who are going to be essentially steering this trial, and I leave it to competent, experienced attorneys when it comes to stipulations.

And the Fourth has reiterated that in a recent

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.

111

interim order relinquishing jurisdiction on an unrelated case -- a case that goes back to 1995, actually -- and emphasize in that interim order the significance of counsel's stipulation. And so I'm here to make determinations of law, rule, where necessary, but the conduct of the trial is going to largely depend upon lead counsel.

So if you guys formulate a questionnaire of a

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

9 preliminary manner that you can agree on, you got 10 it. I'm more than willing to accede to that. And 11 if that is sufficient in your view to satisfy the 12 issue of pretrial publicity, knowledge of the 13 circumstances, knowledge of any the participants, 14 things of that nature that are critical to the 15 analysis, then that's satisfactory to me.

16 MR. SCAROLA: Well, my suggestion, your Honor,
17 is that once the group is assembled, the Court deal 18 with hardship issues in whichever way your Honor 19 ordinarily deals with hardship issues. Anyone who 20 is not asserting a hardship for which they are 21 seeking to be excused and anyone who does not 22 express any knowledge with regard to Epstein or 23 Rothstein, which I think are the two broad 24 categories that we need to address.

25 THE COURT: I'm not as concerned with

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

112

1 Rothstein particularly now as I am, as I was -- I 2 really -- I've never really been concerned with 3 Rothstein.

4 MR. SCAROLA: From my perspective, we can 5 limit it to any knowledge with regard to Epstein.
6 And I would think this is the defense's primary 7 concern as well.

8 THE COURT: Or Mr. Edwards. There's nine 9 million hits, apparently.

10 MR. SCAROLA: Well, that's true. I think 11 those names should be made known to the jurors.
12 Anyone who recognizes those names and anyone who 13 has a hardship remains to be individually
14 questioned.

15 With regard to the others, they are given 16 questionnaires and they are asked to fill out those 17 questionnaires, and then they are excused for the 18 balance of the day. If someone survives individual 19 questioning, they're given a copy of the 20 questionnaire, they fill that out, and they're 21 excused for the balance of the day.

22 THE COURT: All right. So let me stop you 23 there so I'm understanding. The questionnaire that 24 you're proposing would be after the initial issues 25 regarding knowledge of any of the participants in

1 this case?

2 MR. LINK: That's what I envisioned, your 3 Honor. And I think Rothstein, Epstein all have to 4 be part of that dialogue.

5 MR. SCAROLA: I don't have a problem either 6 way.

7 THE COURT: That's fine. Certainly we'll have 8 the opportunity to question them further. If they 9 say they have heard of Scott Rothstein, we will be 10 able to drill down further into that inquiry.

11 MR. SCAROLA: Yes, sir. Anyone who has not 12 heard of any of those three people and does not 13 have a hardship fills out the questionnaire, leaves 14 with instructions to return the following morning.
15 Everybody else is subject to individual voir dire.

16 THE COURT: I'm thinking about it the other 17 way, and I'm thinking the individual voir dire has 18 to come at the initial point of whether or not any 19 of these people have any knowledge of the 20 protagonists here.

21 MR. SCAROLA: Well, it would. The only people 22 who are excused are those who have no hardship 23 concern to raise and don't know any of the three 24 people.

25 THE COURT: But the knowledge of the people

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

114

1 has to come first.

2 MR. LINK: It does, your Honor. You have the 3 sequence correct.

4 THE COURT: Because then hardship becomes a
5 non-issue.

6 MR. SCAROLA: That's fine.

7 THE COURT: Okay? It's the degree of their 8 knowledge, if any, that will have to be dealt with 9 first. If they have knowledge of a nature that 10 results in an immediate cause challenge, then we no 11 longer have to get into any of the other issues.

12 MR. SCAROLA: But does your Honor envision two 13 separate individual voir dires?

14 THE COURT: No.

15 MR. SCAROLA: So you would want to identify 16 everybody who has knowledge and everybody who is 17 claiming a hardship.

18 THE COURT: Has knowledge of a

19 disqualification nature. And if the grammar is 20 incorrect, forgive me for the late hour.

21 So, yes, it would be only those who would 22 be -- who would have knowledge that would subject 23 them to disqualification.

24 MR. SCAROLA: Yes, sir.

25 THE COURT: After that, I see no issue because

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

115

1 I have done it before and have had remarkable
2 results using now Chief Judge Gerber's, then Judge
3 Gerber here in the Circuit Court, his voir dire 4 colloquy on hardship. It's excellent. And it is 5 one that I've had very, very good success
6 utilizing. And I have done it in a group. And the 7 group setting is actually better.

8 MR. SCAROLA: I agree that needs to be done in 9 the group.

10 The bottom line is that those who survive the 11 initial screening process either because the 12 screening process is not necessary for them or they 13 have come in, been individually questioned and they 14 still qualify, those people all fill out a juror

15 questionnaire before they leave for the day and 16 they're instructed after filling out the 17 questionnaire to return the following morning.

18 THE COURT: What are you envisioning -- what 19 are you both envisioning on this questionnaire?

20 MR. SCAROLA: All of the basic information
21 that takes a long time to gather on an individual 22 basis that we won't need to gather individually;
23 demographic information, marital status, job
24 history --

25 THE COURT: So you think it would be better

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

116

1 with 100 -- let's use 80 as a round number -- 80
2 people -- it would be better -- and, Mr. Link, I 3 want your thoughts on the subject, too.

4 MR. LINK: Yes, sir.

5 THE COURT: It would be better to give them 6 the questionnaire, have them fill it out in our 7 presence and then dismiss them for the day so that 8 you all could evaluate this information, as opposed
9 to going through the standard questionnaire that I

10 have here, which is one we all use with demographic 11 information, the name, place of domicile,
12 occupation, marital status, spouse's occupation,
13 adult child occupation, prior jury service, parties 14 to any pending or past law suits, similar criminal, 15 knowing anyone in the courtroom -- we'll basically 16 take that out of the equation -- and can you and 17 will you be a fair juror in the case?

18 MR. SCAROLA: Yes. We include all that 19 information. We request some additional 20 information as well. They fill out the 21 questionnaires, the questionnaires are gathered,
22 multiple copies are made, the Court has one, each 23 side has a copy or more, if they choose to order 24 them, and we then have a chance to look at them 25 overnight and come back the following day and focus

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

117

1 our voir dire on those questions that need to be 2 asked.

3 THE COURT: I'd like to reserve my right to 4 ask the fairness question, so I don't want that 5 included in the questionnaire.

2018-3-8 Hearing Transcript - Afternoon Session

6 MR. SCAROLA: That's fine.

7 MR. GOLDBERGER: Just procedurally, your 8 Honor, I just did this in a case recently in this 9 circuit, and the procedure requested by Mr. Scarola 10 is close to what we did.

11 After the individual got through, they 12 survived the cut, they then filled out the 13 questionnaire, actually down in the jury assembly
14 room. They collected the questionnaires for us, 15 they gave us the copies overnight, and we came back 16 the next day, and it worked pretty well.

17 THE COURT: Okay. So that will be fine. So 18 what we'll do on Tuesday is the 100 people that 19 will be assembled -- we'll be doing jury selection
20 in 11A, so report there at 9:30 on Tuesday
21 morning -- we will go ahead and individually speak 22 to the jurors outside the presence of the 23 remainder. I don't want to do it with the white 24 noise. As I said, that would be headache producing 25 within minutes.

PALM BEACH REPORTING SERVICES, INC.
561-471-2995

1 MR. SCAROLA: Easiest is just go into the jury 2 room.

3 THE COURT: I think that's the best way to do
4 it.

5 And you'll individually question each of the 6 panel after I have introduced everyone, after I've 7 had the opportunity to make them as comfortable as 8 possible and to explain what we're doing and why -- 9 not why we're doing it, because I don't want to 10 hint at anything -- some may recognize the name 11 right off the bat -- but indicate to them that we 12 have agreed that we will question each of you 13 individually so as to find out only preliminary 14 information concerning the matter at hand, and 15 leave it pretty much at that.

16 And then we'll go over with them if they have 17 any knowledge of Mr. Edwards, Mr. Epstein or the 18 Rothstein matter. And I think that's the better 19 way to do it.

20 Obviously, the reason for my doing it, even 21 though it has not come under attack or objection, 22 is because I don't want the entire 100 people to be 23 tainted by one person spouting something that may 24 be of the nature that could arise here. So to 25 avoid that operation -- and, you know, it should be

1 pointed out and always keep in mind the cost to 2 summon people to jury service is extraordinarily 3 high, and so we don't want to waste the taxpayers'
4 money in that respect as well.

5 All right. So again, I want to thank and 6 commend each of you for your presentations today,
7 all that participated either directly or indirectly
8 in the presentation of all of your materials.
9 Thank you to our courtroom personnel, thank you to 10 our staff attorney, who's been assisting me. And I 11 wish you all a pleasant evening.

12 MS. ROCKENBACH: Your Honor, you almost got 13 away. I just have a proposed order on the motion 14 to stay that your Honor denied earlier, if I can 15 approach. I gave a copy to Mr. Scarola just a 16 moment ago.

17 THE COURT: Yes. What you can do tomorrow on 18 the substantive motions -- I'll be at the Bench Bar
19 Conference and you have my permission to track me
20 down. Our schedules are posted, so you'll know

21 where I'll be. But I'll be doing the civil 22 presentations during the afternoon. There's two of 23 them. So I'll be able to be reached there.

24 MR. SCAROLA: Thank you very much, your Honor.

25 THE COURT: Thank you again. Have a great
